Japanese Warships Join U-Boat Hunt

GEN. HAIG'S FORCES WREST BULLECOURT FROM THE GERMANS

Britons Also Successful East of Arras Where They Compel Germans to Give Up Positions at Roeux.

ITALIANS TAKE DUINO, 12 MILES FROM TRIEST

German Crown Prince Renews Violent Attacks on French Northeast of Soissons, But Is Repulsed.

Paris, May 18.—A number of Japanese gunboats have arrived at Marseilles to aid in the war on German submarines and convoy French merchantmen. If the experiment has satisfactory results, it will be extended.

The arrival of Japanese warships in Europe to take part in the war on German submarines marks the first active participation of Japan in the European struggle. The Japanese navy aided in the capture of the German Chinese colony of Tsing-Tsu. A number of German islands in the Pacific were seized by Japanese naval forces and Japanese warships aided in the pursuit of German raiders in southern and far eastern waters.

New York, May 17.—(By Associated Press. From European Cables of the Day.)—After days of most intensive fighting, in which the position several times changed hands and men fell in hundreds in attacks and counter attacks, the British forces have at last driven the Germans out of the village of Bullecourt and are once more threatening the southern end of the Drocourt-Queant line, which Field Marshal von Hindenburg constructed to defend Cambrai from the eastward advance of Field Marshal Haig's army.

Likewise, to the east of Arras, around the village of Roeux, the battle has been waged with a viciousness scarcely ever before seen and here also the British have been successful against the Germans. In Wednesday night's fighting the Germans were forced to give ground before counter attacks inside the village of Roeux and loosen their hold on the positions they previously had taken.

NEW GERMAN ATTACKS REPULSED BY FRENCH.

Although the forces of the German crown prince have renewed with extreme violence their attacks against the French northeast of Soissons in the sectors of the Boulin-de-Laffaux and Braye-en-Laonnois—three of them against each position—they were again repulsed by the French artillery and infantry, suffering enormous casualties. To the east the French troops near Craonne delivered a successful attack, capturing German trench elements.

The Berlin war office reports that for the first 16 days of May the Germans made prisoners of 5,000 British and French soldiers on the French front—2,300 of them British and 2,700 French.

From Tolmino to the sea, the Italians are keeping up their strong offensive against the Austrians or warding off violent counter attacks against positions they have captured in their new push. All counter attacks thus far have failed, says the Rome war office, and the Italians have been able to capture positions on various sectors throughout the fighting zone.

An official disapteh reports the taking by the Italians of the fashionable watering resort of Duino, at the head of the Gulf of Triest, and only 12 miles from the city of Triest, Austria's most important port on the Adriatic sea. In the six days of fighting since the Italian offensive began, 4,021 Austrians have been made prisoner by the Italians.

In Macedonia, also, the forces of the Teutonic allies are meeting with reverses at the hands of the entente troops. In the Cerna river region, notwithstanding the fact that they threw into the action fresh reinforcements from Bulgaria, the Germans lost to the French troops positions on a front of nearly a half mile, while to the east in the Struma river region the British have taken the village of Kjupri and elements of enemy trenches.

ALL OF BULLECOURT NOW IN POSSESSION OF BRITISH FORCES

London, May 17.—The British troops today completed the capture of the village of Bullecourt, according to the announcement from the war office issued tonight.

The announcement says:

"Today our troops completed the capture of Bullecourt, taking some six-

U. S. ARMY OFFICERS TO INSPECT GEORGIA SITES FOR TRAINING

Greenville, S. C., May 17.—(Special.)—Three members of General Leonard Wood's staff, Colonel W. B. Ladue, Major A. C. Dalton and Captain J. C. H. Lee, were here today for the purpose of inspecting proposed sites for concentration camps for one or more divisions of drafted troops.

While they would not give out any information in regard to their itinerary, it is understood that they are headed southward, and are expected in Augusta, Ga., about noon on Friday.

A number of proposed sites in Georgia will be inspected, and it is understood that Atlanta is practically decided upon as the site for at least one division of 22,000 men.

Citizens of Marietta, Ga., have been notified by General Wood that the officers will visit Kennesaw mountain and inspect the site offered the government there within the next few days. They have already inspected a number of camp sites offered in North and South Carolina.

ORDERS ARE ISSUED FOR GREAT PARADE

Thousands of Soldiers, Students and Women Will Take Part in Flag-Raising Ceremony Here Saturday.

That the great parade for the flag-raising at Five Points next Saturday afternoon will be one of the most inspiring patriotic demonstrations in the history of Atlanta is indicated by the tentative order issued Thursday by Adjutant General J. Van Holt Nash, grand marshal of the day.

The order shows that half a dozen military organizations will be represented in force and that there will be no less than half a dozen bands and drum corps. In addition there will be thousands of students of the various educational institutions in and about Atlanta and a great unit of women from the National League for Woman's Service and other patriotic organizations.

The paraders will form at Peachtree and Baker streets at 3 o'clock and will begin to march down Peachtree at 3:30 o'clock sharp.

Reviewed at Five Points.

The parade will be reviewed at Five Points by Major General Leonard Wood, commander of the southeastern department of the United States army. The review will be made from a platform erected at the Fourth National bank corner of Five Points. The Seventeenth Infantry band will fall out of the parade and take position at the flag pole.

After the parade has passed, General Wood will deliver an address appropriate to the patriotic occasion.

When General Wood's speech has concluded, a bugler will sound "Assembly."

While the Seventeenth Infantry band plays "The Star Spangled Banner" and the vast crowds on the streets stand with uncovered heads, Captain Russel A. Osmun, chief of aides to General Wood, will slowly raise Old Glory to the pinnacle of the flag staff.

This will complete the flag-raising ceremonies.

Parade Orders.

The following tentative order of parade, subject to change and addition of new units, has been issued by Grand Marshal Nash:

TWO AND QUARTER BILLIONS ASKED FOR WAR EXPENSES

The House Writes Further Drastic Increases Into Income Surtax Schedules of War Revenue Bill Following McAdoo's Estimate.

WILL NOT TRY TO RAISE SUM BY PRESENT BILL

Measure Under Consideration to Provide Over $1,800,000,000, Says Representative Kitchin — To Make Up Shortage Later.

Washington, May 17.—Further drastic increases were written into the income surtax schedule of the war revenue bill by the house in the committee of the whole today after announcement by Democratic Leader Kitchin that Secretary McAdoo's latest estimate of one-half the cost of the first year of the war, which the bill is intended to cover, would be about $2,245,000,000.

The increases, 25 per cent on all the proposed surtaxes between $40,000 and $1,000,000, as reported by the committee, and a 45 per cent surtax on incomes in excess of $1,000,000 as proposed by Representative Lenroot, of Wisconsin, were included by a vote of 146 to 107. Representative Kitchin and others who were opposed to increased income taxes voted formally against the proposals, but previously Mr. Kitchin had declared on the floor that he did not see how any member of the ways and means committee could oppose them.

Total of Over $1,800,000,000.

No attempt will be made in the house, Mr. Kitchin announced tonight, to raise the total of the bill to $2,245,000,000. It is probable, however, he added that the total will be larger than $1,800,000,000 contemplated in the original measure, and if it is found that more money is needed, another bill will be drafted at the next session of congress.

Many members believed further efforts to make the bill total $2,245,000,000 will be made on the floor or in the committee.

Regardless of Secretary McAdoo's estimate, Mr. Lenroot announced tonight he will seek to have stricken from the bill the taxes on light and heat. Opponents of the second class mail rate increase also will continue their fight.

A statement prepared by a committee expert tonight said that the surtax increase would add about $66,000,000 to the total of the bill during the coming year.

The surtaxes, which would be added to the normal taxes provided by the old law, under the Lenroot amendments, would be as follows: Between $40,000 and $60,000, 10 per cent; $60,000 to $80,000, 13¾; $80,000 to $100,000, 17½; $100,000 to $150,000, 21¾; $150,000 to $200,000, 25; $200,000 to $250,000, 30; $250,000 to $300,000, 33¾; $300,000 to $500,000, 37½; $500,000 to $1,000,000 41¼, and $1,000,000 and over, 45 per cent.

Poor Versus Rich.

Representative Lenroot assailed the plan of taxing the poor on necessaries of life and permitting the rich to retain their wealth subject to emergency taxes.

Efforts of Representative Curry, of California, to insert an amendment to increase the exemption of single persons from $1,000 to $2,000 and on married persons from $2,000 to $3,000, failed by a vote of 100 to 50.

Representative McCormick, of Illinois, and Representative Lunn, of New York, tried unsuccessfully to get additional exemptions for married men with children. A proposal by Representative Paige, of Massachusetts, to turn over to the secretary of the treasury 65 per cent of the salaries of members of congress during the war, and another by Representative Burnett, of Alabama, to assess a tax of 50 per cent of the salary of every representative who voted for war were voted down.

BRITONS ARE HONORED BY PHI BETA KAPPA

Washington, May 17.—Collegiate America today extended its welcome to British Foreign Secretary Arthur James Balfour, Ambassador Spring-Rice and eleven university members of the British war mission by conferring on them honorary membership in the Phi Beta Kappa, the scholarship fraternity extending through the whole American collegiate system. The ceremony took place at the mission headquarters.

Mr. Balfour, speaking in behalf of the mission, said that ties of blood, of common language and common ideals were not the real causes which have at last brought Great Britain and the United States together.

Dr. Lyon G. Tyler, president of William and Mary college and son of the former president of the United States, conducted the initiation.

MAY REVOKE LICENSE GIVEN LABOR AGENT

Macon, Ga., May 17.—(Special.)—At the meeting of city council next Tuesday night it is probable that the matter of revoking the license recently granted to a labor agent from Tennessee for $70 for the city and $500 additional for the county privilege, will come up for consideration. A demand that the license be revoked has been made on council because it is claimed Macon is being drained of her labor supply. During the last few months hundreds of negroes have left for the north and the labor shortage here has now reached serious proportions.

FORESTRY REGIMENT WILL GO TO FRANCE

Washington, May 17.—A foreatry regiment, composed of foresters, woodsmen and others experienced in lumbering operations, will go to France as a unit in the army engineers now being recruited. It will be organized as a volunteer force, and will assist the engineers in preparing timber for construction work.

REDMOND REJECTS PLAN OF PREMIER

Accepts, However, Proposal for Immediate Calling of Convention to Decide on Home Rule Question.

London, May 17.—John Redmond, leader of the Irish nationalists in the house of commons, today rejected the proposal of Premier Lloyd-George for a settlement of the home-rule question, but accepted the proposal for the immediate calling of a convention to decide on a government for Ireland.

Mr. Redmond, in a letter to Premier Lloyd-George, accepts on behalf of the Irish party the proposal for "assembling a convention of Irishmen of all parties for the purpose of producing a scheme of Irish self-government on condition that the basis on which the convention is to be called is such as to insure that it is fully and fairly representative of Irishmen of all creeds, interests and parties; and, secondly, that the convention be summoned without delay."

Mr. Redmond said Premier Lloyd-George's proposal for an Irish government would in the opinion of the member of the Irish party find no support in Ireland. They therefore were irreconcilably opposed to it and any measure based on that proposal would meet with their vigorous opposition. But, Mr. Redmond continued, "the second alternative, namely, the assembling of a convention of Irishmen, has much to recommend it. I trust it may be found possible of realization. My colleagues and I will place no obstacle in the way, and are prepared to recommend the proposal most strongly to our countrymen."

Replying to Premier Lloyd-George in behalf of the Ulster unionists Sir John Lonsdale declared that while the people of Ulster were as strongly opposed as ever to the entire policy of home rule, they have shown they are not unwilling to consider the exigencies of the present situation.

While he and his colleagues had no power to bind the Ulster people to acceptance of the premier's proposals, Sir John added, they would undertake to submit to the Ulster unionist council with the recommendation that a decision be arrived at which would promote the peace and security of the empire and the cause for which it is fighting.

In the lobbies of the house of commons today, after meetings of the Ulster and nationalist parties, the belief prevailed that all parties will eventually accept the convention proposal.

The Ulster Unionist Council meeting is not likely to be held until next week.

THREE SISTERS IN POISON PLOT, POLICE BELIEVE

San Antonio, Texas, May 17.—New developments in the mysterious death of Dr. Sarah Frances Herdman, 54, osteopath physician, who was found dead in her home Tuesday morning, include announcement by the police late today that Dr. Herdman's two sisters, Miss Alice Herdman, 56, and Mrs. Margaret H. Allen, 60, of Brooklyn, N. Y., were at Dr. Herdman's home when she died, and being afraid to remain in the house, went to the Y. W. C. A., where they spent Monday night. According to the police the two sisters admitted this today and also admitted that they intended after returning to Dr. Herdman's home Tuesday morning to end their own lives. Owing to the condition of the two sisters, which borders on nervous collapse, a great deal of credence is not placed in their stories by the police, who today turned them over to the custody of an alienist for examination.

Another new development today was announced by City Chemist Nester that a year ago Dr. Herdman submitted to him for analysis some oranges which she said had been sent to her sister, Miss Alice Herdman. Nester said today that the oranges contained poison.

Thus far the police have been unable to advance either a motive for the alleged poison plot among the sisters, or for an agreement among them to end their own lives, except that in support of the latter hypothesis is advanced the theory that fear of poison so preyed on their minds that their reason became affected.

RUSSIAN COALITION TO ENABLE COUNTRY TO PRESS WARFARE

So Declares General Alexieff—Army Crisis Passes and Chiefs Will Remain at Their Posts.

BRUSSILOFF AND GURKO DECIDE NOT TO RESIGN

The Political Crisis Settled When Declaration of Government's Policy Is Accepted and Signed by Council.

Petrograd, May 17.—(Via London.)—As a result of a meeting in Petrograd of the commanders-in-chief from all the fronts except the Caucasus, Generals Brussiloff and Gurko have withdrawn their resignations, and reports of further resignations are refuted by the definite announcement that all the commanders have decided to remain at their posts. Thus the crisis in the army, which formed an alarming accompaniment to the political crisis, has been averted.

Discussing with the temporary government the serious condition of affairs at the front, the commanders declared that the unfortunate phrase, "peace without annexations," had found its way to the army, and was there translated into an argument against offensive warfare. This and other harmful doctrines pervading the army and the inability of the officers satisfactorily to explain them had ruined discipline and destroyed the authority and prestige of the officers. The discord in Petrograd had naturally found an echo everywhere at the front, but the spirit of the soldiers was slowly recovering, and the power of the Russian army was by no means lost.

To Press War.

General Alexieff, commander-in-chief of the Russian armies, during the course of an interview said:

"The whole gist of the new iden reforms cannot be properly understood by the army, and this has brought about dangerous results. We can overcome the consequent loss of authority if irresponsible persons and organizations will cease further to interfere with our work. I feel assured that under the new coalition government it will be possible to conduct military affairs in a more energetic manner. It is time to wake up and stop shouting 'peace without annexations.' Let us leave peace negotiations to the government."

The cabinet crisis has been settled. A declaration of the government's policy has been accepted by the representatives of the council of workmen's and soldiers' delegates, with merely slight alterations, and was signed by them at midnight.

Socialists Appointed.

M. Tchernoff, national socialist, was appointed minister of agriculture, and M. Skobeleff, vice president of the council of workmen's and soldiers' delegates, was appointed minister of labor.

It was also decided to include in the government Feodor Kokoshkine, constitutional democrat and a professor at the University of Moscow, and M. Tseretelli, member of the council of workmen's and soldiers' delegates. Their duty will be to prepare for the constituent assembly.

It is officially stated that reports of anarchy reigning in Vladivostok are untrue. The commander of the fortress reports that the situation has been orderly since the overthrow of the old regime.

The government yesterday drafted a declaration describing these concessions, and this declaration was handed to the council with a threat that in the event of non-acceptance the entire cabinet would resign. The most important points covered are in connection with the foreign policy. The document begins with a statement that the government's aim is the attainment of a general peace without conquest of other nations, depriving them of their national sovereignty or their territory. In a word, peace without annexations or contributions.

Government's Declaration.

The declaration of the president meets the council's demands by promising to take steps toward the attainment of an agreement with the allies which will realize the government's declaration of April 9. The government, however, is convinced that Russia's defeat in the war would be a great misfortune to all nations, and, while willing to make a general peace on the above foundations, believes firmly that revolutionary Russia will not permit the defeat of its allies in the west. The government consents to the council's demand for the democratization of the army, but desires to combine it with a strengthening of Russia's fighting forces. The declara-

Senator Tillman, Ill Here, Urges Colleagues To Speed Up War Bills

Senator Ben Tillman, of South Carolina, is a patient in an Atlanta sanitarium, where he is having a bad place on his wrist treated, and his health in general restored.

While he is trying to get well enough to return to Washington, the senator is severely criticising his colleagues there for their delay in getting war measures under way.

"The nation will whip this fight with Germany if it takes the last dollar and the last man," Senator Tillman said.

"The country is in great need of hurry-up methods being employed in congress, though.

"American ideals will win out, but it will take American guns, dollars and man-power to beat American ideals into German heads, and especially that of the kaiser."

BAPTISTS REFUSE TO ADMIT WOMEN

Amendment to Make Women Eligible as Delegates in Convention Put Over for Another Year.

New Orleans, May 17.—Women members of the southern Baptist churches were denied the right, for another year, at least, to serve as delegates to the annual convention of the denomination, by action of that body here late today. With less than 600 delegates in the hall, Robert H. Coleman, of Dallas, aroused those present to keen interest by suddenly offering for adoption a proposed amendment to the body's constitution, making women eligible as delegates to the convention.

Dr. J. W. Porter, of Lexington, Ky., immediately and vigorously opposed the amendment, declaring Mr. Coleman was proposing, with only eleven minutes' time available for discussion, to overturn a provision of the constitution which had stood for 72 years. He moved to table the amendment. Numerous advocates of woman's rights to seats sprang up and warm debate developed on the question. Veterans in the denomination said this was the first time the question ever had reached the stage of discussion on the floor. When put to a vote Dr. Porter's motion to table the amendment was lost, 328 to 248, indicating strong sentiment for giving women equal privileges with men in the convention. A parliamentary tangle over interpretation of requirements for amending the constitution occupied an hour's time and finally the convention adopted a motion by N. W. P. Bacon, Sparks, Miss., to refer the amendment to a committee of five with instructions to report on it at next year's convention, and the women lost their chance to serve as delegates at this time.

T. B. Ray, of Richmond, for the foreign mission board, reported the southern Baptists have 458 churches in foreign fields, one-fourth of which are self-supporting. The 47,161 foreign members last year gave $132,371 for all purposes, about one-fourth the amount the southern Baptists expended in their foreign fields.

A resolution that a committee be appointed to suggest methods and means for getting Baptist ministers, who so desired, appointed as chaplains in the army and navy, was referred to a special committee for action.

At today's session of the Woman's Missionary union, an auxiliary of the convention, the president, Mrs. W. C. James, of Richmond, in her annual address, urged women to encourage recruiting for the army and navy, and to willingly assume other burdens imposed by the war, but not to decrease their missionary activities.

Sixteen home and foreign missionaries of the union reported on work in their fields. The union will elect officers tomorrow.

Mrs. L. B. Robinson And Daughters Hurt In Auto Accident

Mrs. L. B. Robinson, of 118 McLendon avenue, had a narrow escape from serious injury when she was pinned beneath the overturned body of a Ford touring car in which she was riding when the automobile was struck by an Inman Park to Clifton street car at McLendon avenue and Sterling street late Thursday afternoon. With Mrs. Robinson were her two young daughters and Mrs. W. P. Townsend, of 122 McLendon avenue, all of whom were badly bruised.

The automobile was overturned and thrown against a telephone pole on the sidewalk. Mrs. Robinson was pinned beneath the machine, and Mrs. Townsend and the two children were thrown violently to the ground. Passers-by and passengers of the street car extricated Mrs. Robinson and assisted her to her home.

The injuries to the children will not result seriously, but both were badly bruised about the head and body. Mrs. Townsend suffered a dislocated shoulder. At a late hour Mrs. Robinson was confined to her bed. The extent of her injuries could not be ascertained. She is the wife of L. B. Robinson, of the A. M. Robinson wholesale dry goods company.

PRESIDENT GIVEN POWER TO PERMIT T. R.'S VOLUNTEERS

New Draft Army Will Not Be Called Out Before September, According to Sec. Baker's Announcement.

HARDWICK ONE OF EIGHT VOTING AGAINST THE BILL

Passage Came After Long Debate, Featured by Senator Stone's Bitter Attack on Roosevelt.

Washington, May 17.—Final action was taken by congress today on the war army bill, the second of the major measures of the war.

The senate, by a vote of 65 to 8, adopted the conference report accepted yesterday by the house. Vice President Marshall and Speaker Clark will sign the bill tomorrow and send it to the white house for President Wilson's approval. It probably will be law before tomorrow night.

As finally approved, the bill provided for raising, by selective conscription, a war army in increments of 500,000 men from 21 to 30 years of age. It also authorizes, without directing, the president to raise volunteer forces which Colonel Roosevelt desires to take to France, and greatly increases the pay of all enlisted men.

Draft Machinery Ready.

Machinery to register and draft the first 500,000 men already has been set up by the war department. Immediately after the president signs the bill, he will, by proclamation, designate the day for registration of the 10,000,000 or more men of the prescribed age. Registration books will be in the hands of state and local authorities, who are to co-operate in the work, and Brigadier General Crowder, the provost marshal general, expects to have his complete lists in Washington within five days after registering begins.

Then will come the task of selecting the first half million, exempting the physically unfit, those with dependents and men who are needed on the farms and in industries. The process of selection probably will be completed long before the men are wanted. Secretary Baker said today that because of lack of supplies the new army would not be called to the colors for training before September.

Whether Colonel Roosevelt shall be permitted to raise an expedition rests with President Wilson. His views have not been disclosed, but it is believed that he probably will postpone decision while the draft system is being put into operation.

Roosevelt's Record Attacked.

As during the early stages of the long dispute in congress, today's closing debate centered upon the so-called Roosevelt amendment. Colonel Roosevelt was vigorously attacked by Senator Stone, of Missouri, and as ardently defended by his friend, Senator Johnson, of California.

Senator Stone attacked the Roosevelt amendment on the ground that "Colonel Roosevelt is unfit to command a body of troops because he has no respect for authority, constitutional or otherwise," and described the provisions as "a scheme both personal and political."

"Colonel Roosevelt is unfit to command, certainly a large body of men," Senator Stone said. "There is nothing in his training, experience or temperament that fits him. Mere courage, ever to the point of audacity, is not a quality that fits a man to control the lives, safety and health of great bodies of men.

"Roosevelt is practically without military training. He commanded a regiment in the Spanish war for a short time, it is true. He led them courageously, but did not command them with judgment. He got his men into a bad hole in imminent danger of being cut to pieces, and they would have been except for a negro regiment under trained regular officers that came to the rescue and saved them.

"This scheme is personal and political. It is smeared all over with politics. It gives Roosevelt, the politician, a chance to exploit himself as the great volunteer hero of the war. It keeps everybody else out and gives him a monopoly of opportunity."

Defended by Johnson.

An impassioned reply was made by Senator Johnson, of California.

"What is it that is asked?" he said. "Only that this man in the twilight of his life may lay down that life for his country, only that he may serve his country."

The senate's approval of the measure agreed upon by the conferees and adopted by the house came late in the day after attempts to send it back to conference, and an earnest appeal by Senator Chamberlain, chairman of the military committee, for final action.

The eight senators who cast the negative votes were:

Democrats—Gore of Oklahoma, Hardwick of Georgia, Kirby of Arkansas, Stone of Missouri and Trammel of Florida. Republicans—La Follette of Wisconsin, Gronna of North Dakota and Norris of Nebraska.

The bill, backed by the administration, was introduced in the senate April 19, was passed April 26—in the senate by a vote of 81 to 8 and in the house, 397 to 24—and has since been tied up in conference, returned there twice by the house to include the Roosevelt volunteer provision and further pay increases for enlisted men. Its chief provisions are: Raising of armed forces by the selective draft system, imposed upon all males between the ages of 21 and 30 years, inclusive, subject to registration and certain exemptions from service.

Increasing the regular army to maximum war strength.

Drafting into the federal service of national guard units.

Raising of an initial force by conscription of 500,000 men, with addition of 500,000 if deemed necessary.

Raising if the president sees fit, of four divisions of volunteer infantry. (The Roosevelt amendment.)

Increasing the pay of all enlisted men as follows:

Fifteen dollars additional monthly for those now receiving less than $21, comprising the bulk of the army, graduated downward to $6 additional monthly for those receiving $45 or more.

Prohibiting sale of liquor at or near army training camps and otherise protecting morals of the soldiers.

The conscription age limits were agreed upon with much difficulty. The war department proposed a minimum of 19 and a maximum of 35. The house voted to fix them at 21 to 40 and the senate at from 21 to 27, the compromise of 21 to 30, inclusive, resulting.

No Call Before September.

In response to a suggestion by Senator Jones, of Washington, that the new selective draft army help harvest crops, Secretary Baker today disclosed that it is not expected to call out the first 500,000 men before September 1, because of "the depleted state of our supplies," and that there will be no "appreciable interference with the labor supply of the country until that date."

After stating that the labor question was receiving serious attention from all departments, Secretary Baker wrote to Senator Jones:

"Owing to the depleted state of our supplies it will not be practicable to call out the first 500,000 men to be raised under the provisions of the bill now pending before congress until about September 1, so there will be no appreciable interference with the labor supply of the country until that date.

"When these men are called they will have to be continuously trained with the colors until they are sent abroad. As the period of training before they are sent abroad will be at the best all too short, in justice to the men it must be intensive and continuous."

PURCHASE IS URGED OF "LIBERTY BONDS"

Man Who Fails to Respond, as Far as Means Will Permit, Is "Slacker," Assert Business Men.

The part of the man who cannot enlist will be to place behind the fighting man his money and resources by buying bonds of the "Liberty Loan," and the man who fails to respond to this duty insofar as his means will permit is no less a slacker than the man who can and does not offer his services for a fight branch of the nation.

This was the dictum of a great meeting of Atlanta business men at a luncheon at the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce Thursday at noon, when an active campaign was launched for the sale of bonds in Atlanta. Enthusiasm and patriotism ran high, and the opinion was expressed that Atlanta will measure up to her present duty just as in the past she has done her full share in any other cause. There was no concealment of the seriousness of the situation in which the United States now finds herself at this meeting, and there was an earnestness which bespoke success in carrying through Atlanta's part.

McCord Makes Appeal.

Governor Joseph A. McCord, of the federal reserve bank, showed that the money put into such bonds as the "Liberty Loan" and into war taxes will come right back into circulation with Georgia farmers and other business men and bankers in the purchase of foodstuffs and other supplies for the armed forces of the United States. Governor McCord also made a strong appeal to the patriotism of Atlanta business men, and his appeal was greeted with cheers.

"Our young men are volunteering every day," said Governor McCord, "and before long they will be drafted into the service by the thousands. You and I will be exempted from conscription, on account of our age or for other reasons. But there could be no greater injustice wrought than the conscription of our young men if you men who are left behind do not respond to such opportunities as subscribing to this loan. A man who fails is the worst sort of a slacker! No good American will do it! I know that Atlantans will not fail to do their share!"

Atlanta's Share.

Of the $2,000,000,000 to be issued now, the Atlanta federal reserve district is expected to absorb $80,000,000, it was stated.

Of this $80,000,000, Atlanta is expected to take up $10,000,000.

This is to be accomplished by a strenuous campaign in which every citizen is expected not only to be a purchaser, according to his resources, but also a salesman. A publicity campaign will be inaugurated to lay the proposition before the public.

St. Elmo Massengale, of Atlanta, has been designated as chairman of the publicity committee for the Atlanta federal reserve district.

Immediate concrete results are expected from subscriptions by banking institutions, business houses, manufactories and individuals, and by the purchase by employers of bonds which will be resold to employees on the installment plan.

J. Epps Brown, of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph company, announced that the Bell system has subscribed for $5,000,000 and that the employees of the system will take $5,000,000 more.

Meetings similar to the one held on Thursday in Atlanta are to be held in other cities in the Atlanta federal reserve district.

The meeting was presided over by Ivan E. Allen, president of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, who introduced M. B. Wellborn, of the Atlanta federal reserve bank.

Liberty Loan Plan.

Mr. Wellborn outlined the "Liberty Loan" plan as follows:

"In behalf of the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta Governor McCord and myself desire to place before you the plan of our government to sell $2,000,000,000 of gold bonds for the purpose of prosecuting the war against the imperial government of Germany. Our government has decided to make this a popular loan so that each individual could own a Liberty Bond. The government is utilizing the twelve federal reserve banks, as a centering point in each of the twelve districts, in conducting an educational campaign and to create a sentiment among the people and rally them to the aid of our government in this gigantic financial undertaking.

"These bonds are in denominations ranging from $50 to $100,000, and are offered to the public at par. They bear 3½ per cent interest, payable semi-annually and are convertible into bonds bearing a high rate of interest in the event the government should later issue such bonds for war purposes. A plan is provided whereby these bonds can be paid for in installments, if the purchaser so desires.

"These bonds, while now obtainable at par, I firmly believe will bring a good premium when the war is over. In offering these bonds to the public a rare opportunity is given the individual to help his government in time of need and in addition thereto to secure a safe and profitable investment. Rarely, indeed, is one afforded the opportunity of doing a patriotic and generous act coupled with absolute safety and profit.

"I shall not dwell further upon the details of this bond issue.

"Atlanta being a city wherein a federal reserve bank is located, we wish this meeting to be a starter for similar meetings to be held in every city in the federal reserve district, which is composed of the states—Georgia, Alabama, Florida and parts of Tennessee, Mississippi and Louisiana.

"I wish to impress upon those present that to furnish the necessary funds to carry on this war is just as important as going to the front, and our government expects every person to do his or her full duty in subscribing to these bonds. Those who do not purchase bonds according to their means are just as much slackers as the young men who shirk their duty in going to war. Our government has entered into this war with a full knowledge of the formidable forces with which they must contend; and that in addition to our own war expense we will be called upon to finance our fighting allies across the water."

Robert Maddox Speaks.

Mr. Wellborn was followed by Robert F. Maddox, president of the Atlanta National bank, whose patriotic appeal stirred his hearers to long applause and shouts of enthusiasm.

Mr. Maddox referred to the manner in which Georgia has always responded to the colors in the past and is responding now. He reviewed briefly the present splendid financial condition of the nation, which enables it to respond to this call upon its citizens for financial support.

"I know of no better security in the world than a United States government bond," said Mr. Maddox. "I believe, though, that some difficulty will be experienced in selling these bonds, for the reason that the people of the United States are not accustomed to trade in government bonds as are the people of England and European countries. We are further handicapped by the great distances in this country and by the scattered locations of the banking facilities.

"But England alone has put $20,000,000,000 into the war already. We are called upon now to furnish men, money, munitions and supplies. It is a great task, but I am confident that we will accomplish it, just as I am confident that this war on our part is a just war.

"The situation is plain. All of us cannot enlist. It is the duty of those of us who cannot enlist and do our bit in the trenches to do our bit by helping to finance the man who is fighting. He is fighting for us, and it is a duty which no man can fail to fulfill to do his share at home."

Mr. Maddox closed his speech with a fiery patriotic appeal which deeply stirred the men gathered there.

J. Epps Brown, of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph company, submitted convincing statistics to show the favorable condition of the people of the United States generally to bear the financial burden of her war and of aiding her allies.

Sale on Installment Plan.

Colonel Fred J. Paxon urged the business men and employers of Atlanta not only to buy bonds for themselves, but to purchase them and sell them to their employees on the installment plan.

"A 'Liberty Loan' bond," he said, "is a thing for a man to frame and hang on his wall and be proud of all of his life."

Colonel Paxon further suggested that employers could encourage the sale of the bonds by placing information regarding them in pay envelopes.

He also suggested that business concerns give "Liberty Loan" bonds instead of bonuses in cash.

"Buy a 'Liberty Loan' bond for your baby," said Colonel Paxon. "It matures thirty years from now, when your little boy will have grown into a man."

St. Elmo Massengale stated that to make the sale of the bonds successful they must be sold in a business-like way. Each man, he said, should not only buy as he is able, but should constitute himself a salesman.

The last speaker was Hollins Randolph, attorney for the federal reserve bank, who urged that it was a patriotic duty to participate in the loan.

ORDERS ARE ISSUED FOR GREAT PARADE

eral Wood at the Capital City club Saturday night.

Banquet to General Wood.

This banquet will also be a great patriotic event. It will be given in honor of General Wood, and will be attended by representative citizens of Atlanta, and by officers of all military organizations stationed at Atlanta, including and above the rank of captain.

Officers are not requested to wear dress uniforms, but may attend in field-service uniforms. It is suggested that citizens wear dress clothes, though this is not required.

General Wood is expected to arrive in Atlanta Saturday morning by automobile from Charleston, S. C. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Wood and also by Captain Russel A. Osmun, chief of aides, and Mrs. Osmun.

An Atlanta committee will meet the party and escort them to the Piedmont hotel.

A committee of ladies, headed by Mrs. John M. Slaton, will have charge of entertaining Mrs. Wood and Mrs. Osmun. A reception will be given them at the Piedmont Driving club, and they will receive other social attentions.

Shrine Band in Parade.

Noble Henry F. Niedringhaus, imperial potentate of the Mystic Shrine, who over a month ago called off the pageant and entertainment features of the annual meeting of the Imperial Council of the Shrine in Minneapolis to be held in June, because he thought it would not be right to spend the huge amount of money it would require for the pilgrimage when the country was at war, gave further evidence of his patriotism while in Atlanta Wednesday as guest of honor at Yaarab temple's ceremonial.

A request had been made to Illustrious Potentate Walter P. Andrews by the committee of arrangements for Saturday's big patriotic parade for the appearance of Yaarab temple's band, patrol, chanters and green coats (degree team), but it being contrary to the laws of the order for any Shrine organization to appear at any sort of meeting or demonstration not of a strictly Shrine nature, Potentate Andrews asked Imperial Potentate Niedringhaus for a special dispensation, which was granted by him for this occasion to demonstrate that the Mystic Shrine holds Old Glory in deepest veneration and that the members of the order will do all in their power to honor the flag they love.

STUDENT OFFICERS WILL BE REVIEWED BY WOOD SATURDAY

Fort McPherson, Ga., May 17.—(Special.)—Two thousand men, the pick of Atlanta, Georgia, Florida and Alabama, will come from the officers' reserve training camp at Fort McPherson Saturday to Atlanta to pass in review before Major General Leonard Wood when he inspects the troops of this section at Five Points.

Official announcement of the fact that the men would pass in review after a "hike" to the city came Thursday when each captain instructed his men to prepare in every way for the formal reception of the chief officer of the army. And the men are glad of the opportunity, too. Three days' training, drilling and studying has worked wonders in their appearances. Nearly gone are the stooping shoulders, the slouching civilian gait. Replacing these are the erect, attentive attitude and the sharp step of the soldier. Even officers who have been engaged in training men in other sections are surprised at the spirit shown and the great strides made in so short a time.

Thursday was much like Wednesday, with the possible difference that work was a little harder and more trying. The "conferences," during which the men grouped themselves under the trees in the forest behind the fort, were held at three sparate times, as usual. Drilling and hiking, instruction in the use of the rifle and in sighting—the important factor—filled the day. In the evening the usual study hours were followed and at 10 o'clock lights went out.

U. S. DESTROYER CREWS ADEQUATELY CLOTHED

Washington, May 17.—Navy officials today resented the statement from Queenstown that the American destroyer crews sent to the war zone were not adequately clothed for duty. The men all had regular outfits, which included woolen underwear, uniforms, caps, socks, jerseys, heavy pea packets, sea boots and oilskins, and most of them were provided with additional lamb's wool jackets before they sailed.

The department has contracted for new winter outfits, which will be available for all men who may be sent abroad. When dressed in these the sailors will look more like arctic explorers than bluejackets.

The Japanese Way To Remove Corns Don't Hurt a Bit---Easy and Simple

The Magic Touch of Ice-Mint Does It. Just a Touch Stops Soreness. Then the Corn or Callous Shrivels and Lifts Off. Try it. Your Feet Will Feel Cool and Fine.

Just a touch of Ice-mint and "Oh!" what relief. Corns and callouses vanish, soreness disappears and you can dance all night or walk all day and your corns won't hurt a bit. No matter what you have tried or how many times you have been disappointed there is a real help for you at last. From the very second that Ice-mint touches that sore, tender corn, your poor, tired, aching feet will feel so cool, easy and comfortable that you will just sigh with relief. Think of it; just a little touch of that delightful, cooling Ice-mint and real foot joy is yours.

No matter how old or tough your pet corn is, he will shrivel right up and you can pick him out after a touch of Ice-mint. No pain, not a bit of soreness, either when applying it or afterwards, and it doesn't even irritate the skin.

Ice-mint is the real Japanese secret of fine healthy, little feet. Prevents foot odors and keeps them cool, sweet and comfortable. It is now selling like wildfire here.

Just ask in any drug store for a little Ice-mint and give your poor suffering, tired feet the treat of their lives. There is nothing better, nor nothing "just as good."

GREAT CAMPAIGN FOR LIBERTY LOAN URGED AT CAPITAL

Washington, May 17.—Representatives of the federal reserve banks and treasury officials in direct charge of the task of floating the liberty loan were virtually unanimous in the opinion that a tremendous campaign must be successfully carried on within the next twenty-seven days if the liberty loan is to meet with the over-subscription which officials hope for.

Predictions that the big issue would be over-subscribed several hundred per cent, made on the face of the first returns of estimates of banks as to the probable amount they and their customers would take, have not materialized thus far. There is a crying need, in the opinion of officials, for the small investor in great numbers to make felt his power, and to bring the realization of this home to the country a vigorous campaign is being planned.

Half Not Yet Asken.

Probably not one-half of the loan has been taken, including allowance for approximately $450,000,000 of treasury certificate of indebtedness already issued.

A large over-subscription, officials feel, is highly desirable in that it would show that the United States is in the war to stay until Germany is defeated.

Secretary McAdoo's trip through the middle west is a part of the program to arouse the country, especially the small investor, to the need of making a full and immediate response to the government's needs.

How widespread the opinion is that the issue already has been over-subscribed is reflected in letters received from some banks which state that in view of the fact that the writers understand the issue already has been fully taken, they regret that there would be no use in offering their subscriptions.

Directing heads of the loan subscription campaign at each of the reserve banks, except Dallas and San Francisco, had the real situation impressed upon them in plain language by treasury and reserve board officials today at a conference. They were told that there was need of arousing the country to the immediate necessity of subscribing to the loan, that the "spirit of '17" should be awakened to match the "spirit of '76."

Full Details Today.

The first burst of patriotic response to the announcement of the issue brought liberal estimates from many banks and numerous inquiries as to the details of the issue. Full details as to re-depositing the proceeds of the issue were not completed until late yesterday. They will be announced tomorrow, having been telegraphed tonight to the federal reserve banks after being rushed through the government printing office late today.

The first subscription to be received through the newly-organized woman's committee of the liberty loan was turned into the treasury today by Mrs. W. G. McAdoo, wife of the secretary. It came from Cincinnati and was for $10,000.

The ranks of organizations which have offered their facilities to the government to aid in making the loan a success were augmented today by the chautauqua speakers. Charles F. Horner, of Kansas City, on behalf of a large chautauqua organization, offered his services in bringing the liberty loan to the attention of audiences in 6,000 towns and cities throughout the country. The offer was accepted.

MARCUS BECK, JR., PUTS ON WEIGHT TO JOIN MARINES

Marcus W. Beck, Jr., son of the distinguished judge of the state supreme court, has set an example in patriotism to the youngsters of his age. Some time ago young Beck applied for enlistment in the marine corps, but was rejected because he was under weight. He immediately set about a course of self-training and diet, which resulted in his putting on the number of pounds required.

Again applying to Lieutenant Colvocoresses, he was accepted and dispatched to Port Royal for training Thursday. The lieutenant offered to give the young man a letter to some of his friends at the training station, but Beck declined, saying: "I do not want any advantages that the others have not. I am perfectly willing to start in on exactly the same basis as any other marine recruit."

FINAL TRIBUTE PAID TO JOSEPH H. CHOATE

New York, May 17.—A host of distinguished men, representative of both public and private life, and of the entente allies as well as of America, attended the funeral services of Joseph H. Choate today at St. Bartholomew's church. The Right Rev. Charles F. Brent, bishop of the Philippines, read the prayer. Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador, represented King George.

M. Hovelesque, minister of public instruction of France, represented the French war commission, and Jules J. Jusserand, the French ambassador, represented France.

GUARDSMAN FIRED ON.

Intruder Driven From Vicinity of Augusta Waterworks.

Augusta, Ga., May 17.—(Special.)—An exchange of fire between one of the sentries at the Augusta waterworks and an unknown person occurred on Tuesday, though neither the guard nor intruder was hit. Suspicion was first aroused on Monday night, when they saw a light near the settling basin. The guard hailed, there was no response, and he fired, whereupon the light disappeared. All sentries were on the lookout Tuesday night when the light again appeared. Sentry Morris challenged the intruder, who responded by opening fire. The sentry returned the fire and several of his comrades also fired. The intruder then disappeared and investigation failed to throw any light on the identity of the suspiciously acting person.

HOTEL MAN RELIEVED OF LUNG TROUBLE

Mr. W. Diehl, formerly proprietor Hotel Lincoln, 4th and Jefferson Sts., Springfield, Ill., tells a remarkable story of his complete recovery from Lung Trouble, after his health had rapidly failed. Mr. Diehl now resides in St. Louis, Mo., and writes a very interesting letter, which would like to have you read:

"In the early part of January, 1912, I contracted a severe cold, which settled in my chest, causing me to cough almost constantly; had no appetite; could not get any rest at night and grew weaker every day. In less than three weeks, my weight had fallen from 145 to 136 lbs. Becoming alarmed at my rapidly declining condition, I decided to put my case in the hands of a specialist, and so I did. He decided a change of climate at once and a long rest. Before starting on my journey to what seemed to me to be my death march, I heard of the wonderful cases that NATURE'S CREATION has conquered. I decided to try a bottle, which I did, and the results obtained after taking one bottle were remarkable. My cough left me entirely, my appetite returned and my weight has increased 20 pounds and am feeling stronger and better than ever. I owe my complete recovery to that most wonderful remedy NATURE'S CREATION, and gladly recommend it to anyone who may be suffering as I have been." Write or call for FREE BOOKLET. No obligation. REV. WELLS NAMED BY PRESBYTERIANS

Committee on Oglethorpe University Unable to Make Conclusive Report — Matter to Be Discussed on Monday.

ELECTION OF DR. CHAPMAN STEP TOWARD REUNION

Dallas, Texas, May 17.—With the election of Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman, of Jamaica, N. Y., a former evangelist, as moderator late today, the 129th general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America took a step which many of the delegates said went a long way toward furthering prospects for a reunion of the two branches of the church—the north and south. Many delegates contended that Dr. Chapman as head of the assembly would exert an influence toward a reuniting of the two factions which was promising.

Dr. John M. Carson, of Brooklyn, nominated Dr. Chapman and apparently struck a responsive chord when he said Dr. Chapman was the man who could do most toward bringing about a reunion of the two church factions.

Just when and in what form the proposed reunion of the two church factions will be broached, prominent men of the assembly refused to predict tonight. Action looking to that end might be taken tomorrow, they said.

Birmingham, Ala., May 17.—The outstanding feature of the fifty-seventh assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States here today was the election of Rev. John Miller Wells, D. D., a commissioner from the presbytery of Wilmington, synod of North Carolina, as moderator.

Four commissioners were placed in nomination for the position: Rev. Thornton Whaling, D. D., president of Columbia Theological seminary, Columbia, S. C.; Rev. A. B. Curry, of Memphis, Tenn.; Rev. W. R. Dobyns, D. D., of St. Joseph, Mo., and Rev. J. M. Wells, D. D., of Wilmington, N. C. The name of Dr. T. M. Hawes, of Louisville, Ky., who had been mentioned in connection with the position, was not placed in nomination.

The mode of election was by the standing vote, the last commissioner nominated being voted upon first and the one receiving the fewest votes being dropped after each ballot. Dr. Dobyns was eliminated on the first ballot, Dr. Whaling on the second and Dr. Curry and Dr. Wells ran off the third, Dr. Curry getting 99 votes and Dr. Wells 129. Then on motion the election of Dr. Wells was made unanimous by a rising vote of the assembly.

Rev. J. D. Sibley, D. D., of Charlotte, N. C., and Rev. W. F. Galbraith, of Dallas, Texas, were named as temporary clerks.

On motion the reports of the executive committee of foreign missions, the executive committee of home missions, the executive committee of Christian education and ministerial relief and the executive committee of publication and Sabbath book work were received in printed form and the secretary of each committee addressed the assembly, showing the past year to have been of marked success in the work of each committee. The secretaries who addressed the assembly were Rev. Egbert W. Smith, D. D.; Rev. Henry M. Sweets, D. D., and R. E. Magill.

On motion the assembly received the report of the ad interim committee on Oglethorpe university, appointed at the assembly of 1916, and it was ordered that the consideration of this report he made a special order for Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The report was read by Rev. W. L. Lingle, D. D., chairman of the committee.

The discussion of this report on Monday promises to furnish one of the most interesting features of the assembly. The finding of the ad interim committee shows that it has been unable to reach any conclusion touching Oglethorpe university that will be satisfactory to the board of directors of the university and at the same time be satisfactory to the assembly's executive and advisory committees of Christian education.

The morning session was devoted to the delivery of a sermon by Dr. C. W. Grafton, the retiring moderator.

CUMBERLAND PRESBYTERIANS ELECT SEAGLE MODERATOR

Lincoln, Ill., May 17.—F. A. Seagle, of Chattanooga, was chosen moderator of the Cumberland Presbyterian general assembly late today, the highest office in the power of the church to bestow.

COMMISSIONER BROWN PROBES CAN PROBLEM

Washington, May 17.—(Special.)—Commissioner of Agriculture J. J. Brown has returned to Atlanta, after discussing with officials of various government bureaus the efforts being made to insure an adequate supply of cans for the use of the farmers this summer and fall in preserving their crops. He was accompanied by William J. Harris, chairman of the federal trade commission. They were told what steps the department had under consideration so as to give the maximum aid to the farmers.

Commissioner Harris has also taken up with the department of justice the question of preventing agents of munition plants from gathering up negro farm laborers and shipping them away from Georgia and other southern states.

HOWARD ATTACKS DEFENSE COUNCIL

Declares That the Plan of Awarding Contracts Is Extravagant, and Demands That Body Be Abolished.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, May 17.—(Special.)—Representative William Schley Howard made a bitter attack on the council of national defense in a speech in the house today, declaring its plan of awarding contracts was wasteful and extravagant. He demanded that the council be abolished. He referred to an award made for supplies at Fort McPherson, Atlanta, which, he said, was indefensible.

The speech was made during the consideration by the house of the $1,800,000,000 war revenue bill. Mr. Howard brought out the fact that the estimates showed that about $4,000,000,000 would be expended for the war by the end of the fiscal year.

"In the general army appropriation bill approved August 29, 1916, we created an inoffensive, innocent-looking piece of machinery in this government known as the council of national defense," said Mr. Howard. "Seven men were supposed to get together, selected on account of their long experience and superior ability in certain lines, to advise different cabinet officials therein mentioned.

"I went down to the Munsey building this morning and found three entire floors of that large office building occupied by this council of national defense. There were hundreds and hundreds of clerks crowded together like they were putting out a fire in a broomsedge patch. There were expert fly-speckers, chemists, insect finders, bughunters and people of every conceivable character engaged in national defense.

"If that crowd is to be turned loose on the nation for six months longer, they are going to bankrupt it."

Mr. Howard attacked the rule adopted by the council to let no contract except on a 10 per cent profit basis, figured on gross costs.

"I am not a business man. I have been accused on several occasions of being a modest kind of lawyer. But let me show you how this thing works. There is every incentive to the contractor under this plan to increase his costs, because every dollar of increase in the cost of labor and raw material, in transportation and other costs of production, increases the ultimate profit that the contractor will get from the government."

He told of an incident related to him by three or four contractors of Atlanta.

"If their statements are authentic, it is so outrageous, it is evidence of such waste and extravagance on part of this council of national defense that I do not feel free to state it here without having the absolute, unequivocal proof.

"I want to say that if the wings of this council of national defense are not clipped, and clipped promptly, and the attention of the country called to the enormous expenditures of the tax payers' money under this 10 per cent profit system it will be disastrous to this nation."

COUNCIL REPLIES TO ATTACKS.

Washington, May 17.—Elimination of the middleman in government buying, members of the advisory commission of the national defense council say, is largely responsible for criticism of the committee in the senate, many dealers having gone to their congressmen with bitter copiaints of disarrangement of business.

Julius Rosenwald, chairman of the defense council's committee on supplies, said today the committee would continue to go direct to manufacturers for supplies.

"In every purchase," said Mr. Rosenwald, "we are dealing with the makers themselves. In the past a large class of middlemen has supplied the government and a profit was taken by every one who handled the goods. We are determined that this shall not be done in this war, and that the government shall get the very best goods at reasonable prices."

Just now the committee is trying to get sufficient uniforms for the first 500,000 men to be raised under the army draft. It will require 4,000,000 uniforms to outfit and provide reserve supplies for these men and some may be forced to wear civilian clothes for a time after they are in camp.

WOOD COMMANDS 264,000 TROOPS

Twelve Out of 32 Divisional Cantonment Camps for Draft Army Will Be in Southeastern Department.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, May 17.—(Special.)—The mobilization of a million soldiers this year will lead to the construction by the government at an early date of thirty-two cities of wooden buildings, each town of which will be the home of twenty-two thousand men. Twelve camps, or 264,000 men will be in the southeastern department, commanded by General Leonard Wood.

Atlanta and Fort Oglethorpe have already been selected, it is generally understood, for division headquarters. It is also possible that a naval military camp will be constructed near Savannah. War department officials believe the south is the best place for these all-year-round camps.

As was announced in these dispatches several weeks ago, six hundrd million feet of lumber will be required. The construction work will be done by contract, under the supervision of army officials. Colonel I. W. Littell, of the quartermaster general division, will be in general charge.

Each of the army camps or cantonments, will cover 720 acres. A little over one square mile, and additional land will be needed for maneuvers. Most of the buildings will be long, one-story structures, and will include, in addition to quarters for the men, officers' quarters, kitchens, mess halls, bathhouses, storehouses and all the other buildings needed to house the troops and provide for the innumerable activities of camp life.

In addition there will be warehouses constructed to house the quartermasters' stores. In Atlanta it is probable the Candler warehouses, which are the largest and most modern in the country, will be used.

General Wood Honored.

Charleston, S. C., May 17.—Ten thousand men, women and children, every one carrying the national flag, paraded through the streets of Charleston this afternoon as a demonstration of their patriotism and as a fitting welcome to Major General Leonard Wood, who, being assigned to the command of the southeastern department, recently came to Charleston to direct from here the organizing of the army which this country expects to send to Europe. As a climax to the parade, General Wood was presented with a handsme flag on the part of the citizens of the city. Tonight he is the guest of the business men of Charleston at a formal welcome dinner.

Governor Richard I. Manning welcomed General Wood on the part of the state; Mayor T. T. Hyde, on the part of the city.

In his address, delivered to the thousands who paraded, General Wood urged them to awaken to the serious and solemn aspect of the war. "We are in the biggest war in the world's history," he said, "and you don't know it. But soon you will have the visible evidence. France and England, whose struggling and bleeding lines now alone protect us from the enemy's might, are calling for men, living evidence that America is in the war of democracy against autocracy, with something more substantial to offer than money and sympathy. We will win this war, but every person in the country must do his share, whether it is in the trenches, behind the plow or in the factory."

FRENCH REPULSE GERMAN ATTACKS AND GAIN GROUND

Paris, May 17.—"The Germans renewed their attempts in the region north of Moulin de Laffaux, where we have entirely re-established our lines," says the official communication issued by the war office tonight. "Near Froidmont farm an enemy surprise attack failed.

"On our part we made appreciable progress east of Craonne, capturing some trench elements in the region of Hill 108, north of Berry-au-Bac; we took a number of prisoners.

"Quite violent artillery fighting took place on the Californie plateau and there were intermittent artillery actions on the rest of the front.

"In the period from May 8 to 16 sub-Lieutenant Nungesser brought down three German airplanes, which brought up to twenty-seven the number of machines destroyed thus far by this officer. Sub-Lieutenant Dorme brought down in the same period his twenty-third adversary; Lieutenant Duellin his fifteenth; sub-Lieutenant Chaput his eleventh; Adjutant Jailler his ninth; Adjutant Cazale his eighth. Finally Captain Auger increased to five the number of enemy airplanes brought to earth by him.

"Belgian Communication: 'At various points on the Belgian front there were artillery duels of moderate intensity. Near Steenstraete and Het Sas bomb fighting was resumed in the course of the day.'

"Eastern Theater, May 16: On the Struma front British troops captured some enemy trenches and the village of Kjupri. They repulsed several counter attacks and took 85 prisoners.

"Intense activity was displayed on the Serbian front. West of the Cerna French troops carried on a front of 800 meters a series of works which the enemy defended with stubbornness. In the course of the last operations the enemy sent into action a division of reinforcements that had come to Bulgaria."

BRITISH SUCCESSES ADMITTED BY BERLIN.

Berlin, May 17.—(Via London.)—The German official statement today follows:

"Army Group of Crown Prince Rupprecht: In consequence of a strong British counter attack we were compelled to give up some ground we had captured in the village of Roeux during the early morning. Strong British attacks initiated during the forenoon and afternoon to the north of Scarpe in conjunction with the foregoing engagement were repulsed with heavy losses for the enemy. Also southwest of Riencourt British advances met with not the slightest success. On the front occupied by this army group 2,300 British prisoners have been taken since the beginning of May.

"Army Group of the German Crown Prince: Near Vauxaillon and east of Laffaux we pushed forward our line some hundred meters by a surprise attack and held the ground gained against French attacks. In this fight the enemy, apart from his losses in troops. In this fighting and in a counter attack the enemy was repulsed everywhere."

COUNTER ATTACKS OF AUSTRIANS MELT UNDER ITALIAN FIRE

Rome, May 17.—(Via London.)—Today's Italian official statement reads:

"Julian Front: The expected reaction of the enemy against the successes won by our troops violently manifested itself yesterday, but everywhere failed, thanks to the solid resistance of our men.

"In the Bodrieu region and on the Plava eminence of height 383 minor enemy attacks were easily repulsed.

"Fighting in the zone between Monte Cucco and Vodice was bitter and lengthy. Considerable enemy masses, supported by the fire of numerous batteries, were repeatedly launched against our new positions. Each time they were repulsed and the Pochux bastion of Monte Cucco from Height 611 to Height 524 remained firmly in our possession. Moreover, we made appreciable progress toward the important summit of Height 652 on the Vodice.

"In the zone east of Gorizia enemy counter attacks, directed particularly against the summit of Height 174 and to the east of the Vertoibizza torrent, broke down under our fire. Afterwards our infantry, assuming a counter offensive, occupied the important height to the south of Grazigna after a desperate conflict.

"On the Carso plateau the enemy, with the evident object of lessening our pressure in the region of Gorizia, attempted a powerful effort against our positions at Monte Vanacnacco and Monte Faiti, on the northern section of the plateau. Successive waves of his infantry were broken down by our well-directed fire or rolled back in disorder after having suffered serious losses.

"On the whole front from Tolmino to the sea there were continuous actions by artillery of all calibers. The enemy artillery continues its work of devastation on the village of Gorizia. Some shells hit one of our field hospitals in Vervignano, where there were six victims.

"The number of prisoners taken by us from Monday up to yesterday reached 4,021, of whom 124 are officers."

WAS ASHFORD HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT?

This Theory Advanced on Thursday Morning in the Trial of George Powell in Superior Court on Murder Charge.

The theory that Thomas B. Ashford met his death from an automobile accident, and not from a blow delivered by George Powell, was advanced by the defense in the criminal division of superior court yesterday, where Powell is on trial for the Ashford killing.

Powell took the stand to deny that he had even struck the dead man in the lobby of the Folsom hotel the December night Ashford was found dead at Peachtree and Fourteenth streets. He stated that he was personally acquainted with Ashford, and that the latter was not his antagonist in the hotel episode.

Powell testified that he went to the Folsom hotel, which is located on Marietta street, in the heart of the downtown district, about 8:30 o'clock on the night of the death, and that he was accosted by a strange man who asked for liquor.

The witness related that he told the stranger he was not a "blind tiger," whereupon words ensued, culminating in a blow delivered by Powell with the palm of his hand.

To support the automobile theory of the defense, expert witnesses were put on the stand. Dr. L. Sage Hardin, Dr. W. F. Westmoreland and Dr. W. L. Gilbert testified that the wound found on the head of the slain man could not have been caused by a man's fist, and that it would have been impossible for a man with such a wound to travel from downtown Atlanta to Fourteenth street, a distance of approximately two miles.

Dr. Hardin, an attache to the Grady hospital staff, who operated on Mr. Ashford when he was hurried to Grady, also took the stand.

Arguments will proceed today, and the case is expected to go to the jury before tonight.

GRADY HOSPITAL NURSES GET DIPLOMAS TONIGHT

Ten young women who have successfully completed the course of instruction in the training school at Grady hospital, will be given diplomas at Taft hall Friday evening at 8 o'clock. Dr. W. B. Summerall, superintendent of the institution, has expressed himself as being well pleased with the work of the embryo nurses under Dr. Edmund W. Martin, head of the school.

The young women graduating are Misses Claude Sims, Atlanta; Josephine L. Willman, Talladega, Ala.; Sallie Virginia Matthews, Chalybeate Springs; Hope Wood, Gaffney, S. C.; Rosa Mae Wingard, Augusta; Bernice McLean, Woolsey; Lillian Edith Cumbee, West Point; Annie Bell Austin, Monroe, N. C.; Mattie Lawrence, Ranger, N. C., and Mrs. Frances Scoville, Atlanta.

The program has been arranged as follows: Invocation by Rev. Wallace Rogers; graduating address by Rev. W. R. Hendrix, presentation of class pins by Dr. LeRoy Childs, music by C. E. Barber's orchestra, presentation of diplomas by Dr. E. W. Martin and benediction by Rev. Charles W. Daniel.

LINDALE SCHOOL GIRL MARRIES IN ATLANTA

While the parents of Miss Mary Lou West, of Lindale, Ga., were calmly awaiting her return from school yesterday afternoon, the young lady was speeding towards Atlanta with Frank H. Anderson, also of Lindale, and in a few hours they were married at the residence of Rev. Wallace Rogers, in West End.

Anderson, who had previously come to Atlanta to accept a position here, Thursday quietly returned home, met Miss West, who was presumably on her way to the Rome High school, at the depot, and they immediately caught a train back to Atlanta.

The marriage was a great surprise to everyone, as neither of the young couple had acquainted any of their friends with their plans. Both are from prominent families in that section.

DIVINE DRAMA OF JOB WILL BE GIVEN TONIGHT

"The Divine Drama of Job," a reproduction of the happenings of the Book of Job, will be presented by the students of the theological department of Emory university at the St. James Methodist church on Marietta street tonight at 8 o'clock for the purpose of raising funds for a piano for that church.

This is the second time the play has been produced here by the Emory students. It was staged recently with great success at the Capitol View Methodist church, a large and attentive audience being in attendance.

The price of admission will be 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children.

COLLINS AND KELL WILL ADDRESS THE SALESMEN

The next regular meeting of the Salesmanship Club of Atlanta will be held Monday evening in the assembly room of the Piedmont hotel. This meeting will be unusually attractive as it is the second of the spring and summer courses in salesmanship. W. H. Kell, secretary of the National Convention of Rotarians, will speak on "The Methods of Developing Positive and Eliminating the Negative Qualities in Salesmanship." Another speaker of the evening will be James H. Collins, who will speak on "Dispelling Gloom." Mr. Collins is a writer of wide reputation and is well known through his contributions to The Saturday Evening Post, Country Gentleman, McClure's and Successful Banking.

MAY DIVORCE CALENDAR SMASHES ALL RECORDS

Nearly 300 divorce cases—a record number—comprise the present undefended divorce calendar for the May term of superior court. The calendar is being completed by Clark Lewis, clerk of court. The daily additions being made to it indicate that the number will go even beyond 300, making the heaviest divorce grind of any term in the history of Fulton county courts.

RAILROAD REGIMENT RECRUITING OPENED

Many Applicants Waiting for Examination—Twenty-Five Passed.

Recruits were waiting in line for examination at the office of the Seventh regiment of engineers in the Chamber of Commerce building, when enlistments were opened yesterday. Dr. George S. McCarty, formerly of Sandersville, and Dr. R. L. Rhoades, of Augusta, both first lieutenants in the officers' reserve corps, were detailed to conduct the examinations.

Twenty-five were passed during the first day. There have been already over 400 applications received at this office, besides quite a number in Birmingham and at other places. Twelve hundred are needed to complete the regiment.

For many of the places in the regiment railroad experience is a prerequisite, but there are places for laborers as well as clerks, where it is not absolutely essential. The physical qualifications are the same as for enlistments in the regular army.

This regiment, together with eight similar units now being organized, will probably be the first to see service on the war front. They will be sent to France as soon as they have been organized and have received the minimum number of drills to get them in working order.

Quarters for the men have been secured at the Woodward warehouse, near the big cotton warehouses built by Mayor Candler. The building will be made into a barracks, with all the necessary comforts for the men.

Captain G. V. Heidt, of the army recruiting station, spent the day in Macon inspecting his sub-station at that point. He is expected to return Friday.

While recruiting at the various branches was not altogether up to the standard of the first three days of the week, it did not show the decline to some previous week-ends, and recruiting officers are hopeful that the upward trend in enlistments will last. The first three days of the week have always been days of greater activity than the last three.

"BUCKET SHOP" LAW HELD TO BE LEGAL BY SUPREME COURT

The supreme court of Georgia, in an opinion handed down Thursday, held the Georgia "bucket shop" law constitutional.

The case was that of C. H. Arthur vs. the State, appealed from Fulton superior court. The high court sustained the decision of Judge Ben Hill, before whom Arthur was convicted of dealing in futures on margins and fined and whom Judge Hill denied a new trial.

Arthur contended that the Georgia law did not provide due process of law and that it could not be constitutional in Georgia when such operations were permissible under the law in New York state, where he also operated.

JOHNSON NOW INSISTING ON THE HOG ORDINANCE

Councilman W. H. Johnson, from the fifth ward, is going to introduce his third hog ordinance at council meeting Monday afternoon.

"I have tried to get this hog ordinance through twice before," said Councilman Johnson, "and it was lost. I am going to try again next Monday. The question of hog raising in back lots of citizens is one of vital importance. The cost of living is soaring out of sight, and city council should permit persons to raise hogs in their lots, provided they allow them to run free and not be penned up where they become a nuisance.

"My next ordinance will be aimed at letting them run free in the yards, as there is no law against this kind of hog raising, so long as the hog doesn't become a nuisance."

Decatur to Raise Flag.

Decatur, Ga., May 17.—(Special.)—The Decatur Campfire Girls have been canvassing the town for funds to erect a flagpole and buy a flag. They have succeeded in raising the greater part of the amount needed—$50—and will complete the canvass this week. The flagpole will be located on the courthouse grounds near the Confederate monument. The canvass has been directed by Mrs. W. A. Gosnell.

The Constitution Classed As the "Greatest Southern Newspaper"

The current issue of Patterson's Magazine, in an extensive review of the field of great American newspapers, classes THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION as the most eminent newspaper of the south, saying:

"AMONG THE SPLENDID NEWSPAPERS WHICH SHOULD BE THE PRIDE OF EVERY AMERICAN IS THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION, THE GREATEST JOURNAL OF THE SOUTH."

OFFICIAL INDOLENCE.

Secretary of State Phil Cook reports that he has received between $130,000 and $140,000 in payments of automobile license tag fees ready to be turned over to the various counties for disbursement in roads improvements, but that he is held back in the distribution of it because twenty-eight of the state's fifty-two counties have failed to send in their reports on road mileage.

Because such funds are distributed among the counties upon the basis of road mileage the money cannot be apportioned until such data is placed in the hands of the secretary of state, and not a dollar of it can be applied to any highway until every county in the state has reported.

Counties which have promptly complied with the law and are eager to get busy on their roads are reported to be growing restive because the delinquency of other counties is delaying the apportionment of the money.

Right now is the best time of the year for working the roads, and it is unfair and inexcusable that improvement of the roads of the entire state must be held back just because of the incompetency or laziness or lack of interest of the officials of a few counties—or even one county.

A lot of good could be done with $130,000 on the highways of Georgia, if judiciously and intelligently expended. Even that comparatively small amount would fill a lot of bog-holes and remove many a stone. But it can never improve roads, so woefully in need of improving, so long as it lies in the vault; and it must lie in the vault until the last county wakes up and does its duty.

Too many Georgia county officials do not take their jobs seriously. They slide along on the theory that "tomorrow will do just as well."

That has been repeatedly demonstrated. A glaring instance was afforded following the last general election, when it was weeks before some of the counties had made final returns of the vote!

This matter of road improvement right at this time is of vastly more importance than election returns; and some means should be found to bring the somnolent counties to appreciate the fact that they are burning daylight.

Were the law amended in such a way that none of this money would be allotted to any county not reporting its road mileage by a given date, possibly that would help. Certainly it would tend to stimulate punctuality.

ALL WOULD SERVE!

Men of "the old brigades," who have seen battle and who are still able to "shoulder a gun and show how fields were won," are as spiritedly patriotic and ready to "do their bit" as Young America.

Here and there the country hears of them—from the home-towns and quiet country places; for they write to their home newspapers—brief communications expressing their desire to serve their country in any capacity. Take, for instance, this—of a Tift County (Ga.) veteran, of whom The Tifton Gazette says:

"Uncle Jeff Parker says that he is of the opinion that he can take a regiment of men his age and of his physique and do more for Uncle Sam in this war than two or three regiments of boys aged from 20 to 25. Too, he says that he thinks the government should take men of his age and situated as he is first, because if he gets killed the country would not lose as much as it does when a young man passes out. Mr. Parker's logic is good and his argument almost beyond contradiction; and we don't believe the government would have much trouble in mustering many regiments of men past middle life who are hale and hearty—and rarin' to go. At any rate, not if the country is populated with such men as inhabit this section."

Good for "Uncle" Jeff Parker and men of his caliber, who ask no easy home-keeping service, but would be in the thick of the fight still!

"If I get killed, the country would not lose as much as it does when a young man passes out."

That's the true, patriotic spirit—to think beyond the present and give all for the country's future!

And, indeed, it wouldn't be hard to raise regiments of just such patriotic veterans wherever the flag flies!

THE RAILROADS' STATUS.

On May 23 a conference of the owners of stocks and bonds of American railroads will be held in Baltimore, and one of the matters up for consideration is the proposed organization of such investors into an association for the better protection of the railroads' credit.

It is stated in the official call for this conference that—

"The credit of the railroads has apparently not been sufficiently maintained to enable them to economically finance their requirements in times of peace, much less now when upon their efficiency largely depends the successful outcome of the war in which the United States has become so vital a factor."

S. Davies Warfield, president of the Continental Trust company, of Boston, and known throughout the south as chairman of the board of directors of the Seaboard Air Line Railroad company, and as one of the most enthusiastic developers of the south, agriculturally and industrially, in amplifying the conference call, says:

"The railroad presidents of the country have ably presented to the interstate commerce commission the effect of the great increase in cost of every element entering into the equipment and operations of the railroads. The conference will decide whether it is desirable for investors in railroad bonds and stocks to ask the commission to be heard on railroad credits; its bearing on securities and future railroad financing and the importance of maintaining the credit of the arteries of the nation—the arteries of the trade—the railroads, representing seventeen billion dollars' investment, and what this means in the successful placing by the government of billions of dollars in loans to finance the war to provide for the effective defense of our country."

Simultaneously with the convening of this conference the interstate commerce commission will resume its hearing upon the railroads' petition for permission to invoke a general increase in all freight rates.

This agitation on the part of the country's railroads was started concurrently with the supreme court's approval of the Adamson eight-hour law, the operations of which law, the railroads declare, will mean an addition of millions of dollars to their operating expenses, with no compensatory increase in earning capacity.

They maintain that the effects of the eight-hour law, together with the general and terrific advance in the cost of every element entering into the expense of railroad operation and maintenance, either directly or indirectly due to the war, and now accentuated by our own state of war, imposes a burden which the roads cannot afford to bear, and which many of the less prosperous ones cannot bear; and several of the companies, it is said, will be forced into receiverships unless relief is forthcoming.

Of course, such a state of affairs—if it really exists, as the railroads say it does—affects vitally the holders of railroad stocks and bonds, and the railroads' credit. More than that, it affects vitally the very prosperity of the entire country and every man, woman and child in the country. As Mr. Warfield well says, the railroads are the "arteries of the nation—the arteries of trade," representing "several billion dollars' investment," and in truth hardly a greater calamity could befall any section of the country than for one of its trunk railroads to go to the wall—one of its "arteries" to cease to perform its function.

With the resumption of the interstate commerce hearings on May 23, shippers, representatives of state railroad commissions and others, will endeavor to show that the proposed freight rates increase is not warranted and not necessitated by conditions nor circumstances.

So there the matter stands; and there it has been standing too long, with the country in the throes of a war crisis intensified by a state of industrial unrest and uncertainty.

Let us hope, therefore, that this hearing may be simplified, and the decision to follow it hastened by the proposed stocks and bondholders' conference; and the thing settled definitely, fairly, finally and quickly.

If the railroad structure of the country cannot stand under the weight—now and to come—it must crumble; and if it crumbles the prosperity and largely the resistance power of the nation will be seriously impaired.

It is up to the interstate commerce commission to ascertain the facts and to act—and the sooner the question is settled the better it will be for the whole country.

The spirit of the country is that every flag-raising should be a regiment-raising.

Bound to hear from Villa, for when it's a dull day with him he kills off a colonel or two, and gets a date line.

And it's fine to feel the uplift of even that little Liberty Bond!

On the Good Work of Caring for Children's Teeth

Editor Constitution: I wish to express my personal appreciation, as well as the appreciation of the Atlanta Society of Dental Surgeons, on the strong editorial recently appearing in your paper commenting on an article written by me for the board of education on the care of the teeth and what is being done in the public schools for their conservation.

We are very much in hopes that this will stimulate the interest of the parents to take advantage of the opportunities that are now offered to them to look after the mouths of their children.

(DR.) DE LOS L. HILL.

May 8, 1917.

In Defense of the Dog.

Editor Constitution: There is no question as to the fineness of hog meat, but has the necessity for economy become so great that hundreds of lives must be endangered and given up for the presence of the hog, while there are such vast acres of land whereof a very small portion could be easily set aside for hog raising with no danger from the filth that can't possibly be avoided?

Just suppose all this, Mr. Editor, as Mr. McGee, in a recent communication in The Constitution, would have it.

But all the same, do away with the worthless dog.

Far be it from me to attempt to more adequately express in words your defense of the poor, helpless, dumb animal—the dog—against the heartless feelings of Mr. McGee. Can this be a man, a real man in whose breast there burns no love for this animal, no appreciation of its valuable service, in more ways than one; no conception of its world-known faithfulness?

Understand now, not every dog, as you say the "flea-bitten, mangy, vicious curs—that do no good in the world, but a lot of damage," but the dog that has a home of which he has a "part," wherein some little heart is daily gladdened by the "pup's" presence and protection. And the dog whose valuable service is without a doubt the cause of many lives being saved in the present war by their ability to summon aid.

Mr. McGee says "dogless state"—not "dogless world." Just a supposition now—what if he had said "dogless world?" Can your mind conceive of the loss?

J. M. SMITH.

Skyline Sketches of Atlanta Life

It is not often that Aunt Elvira Thomas, of up Roswell way, comes to town; but when she does, she insists upon getting her money's worth, in spite of what her very conservative husband, old Jim Thomas, and her full-grown daughter, Katy, can do.

She struck Five Points at the same time that the preparedness parade and the lady sponsors filed by; and she immediately secured a good position to see the show.

First came the boy's band, which pleased her immensely with its sprightly tune and fine looking young chaps. And then came a detachment on horseback that seemed to get the old lady all tangled in her mind. She followed the horses and the pack mules with their boxes strapped on either side for a block with her eyes, almost losing sight of some of the most imposing of the sponsors. After careful consideration of the problem, and still unable to find a solution, she addressed her husband:

"Jim!" she said, "Them there boxes on them mules looks suspicious to me."

"For the land's sakes, 'Elviry," said Jim, "why on earth are you pesterin' longer them mules!"

"Say what you will, Jim Thomas," the old lady shot back, "I seen such things as that before. Not later than week before last there wuz two mules with boxes on their backs exactly like them there passed our house goin' south, and"—in a significant whisper—"them boxes wus full of mountain dew."

And right now, Aunt Elvira is back in her chimney corner shaking her head over the awful fate which awaits the boys who enlist in the army in the general neighborhood of those pack mules.

The Dark Mystery.

Whether it was due to a new style in Darktown or to the flight of dusky Lochinvars is not known, but the Atlanta streets were flooded with Ethiopian damsels, clad in deepest mourning yesterday.

Five of the mourners stood for more than an hour yesterday forenoon in front of a certain Whitehall street store, and, with marble-like countenances, met the gaze of passersby. They were formed in a line that would do credit to the Germans, and through blackest veils one might faintly glimps the most lugubrious expressions. Three more of the widows were stationed two doors away, and, if possible, they were more solemn in appearance that their five sisters, and so sabled was the luster of their faces that the sunlight seemed to reflect in shattered rays from the ebony mirrors.

Standing at Five Points one might see mourning galore, and a stranger might be led to think that the dark Cimmerian desert was in the vicinity of Atlanta.

It was a dark mystery—very dark!

HEALTH TALKS
BY WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

POCKETFUL OF PRECIOUS STONES.

A gall-sac full of gallstones is a beautiful sight, to the surgeon's eye. To anyone else, say the victims, it would not seem at all attractive. But a doctor looks at things through scientist's eyes. A naturalist sees beauties in bugs that only make us ordinary folks itchy.

The patient is an adult of any age, usually forty or more. She—that is her sex, as a rule—is stout, too well nourished. She has suffered with attacks of "indigestion" for several years. Her typhoid fever left her with a "weak stomach." Experience has taught her that she cannot indulge in certain articles of food without developing an attack, as a rule. The attacks have been growing slowly more severe and more frequent; at first they came only once in a few months, at night, with more distress than pain, and considerable oppression about the heart, which, like a real old woman, she attributed to "gas." Lately, however, they come every few weeks, and last a few days.

"Intestinal indigestion," "fermentative dyspepsia," "excessive acidity," and of course "liver complaint" have been the guesses.

Prior to operation an X-ray picture disclosed nothing suggestive of stones—only about two-thirds of the cases are demonstrable by X-ray, for gallstones which contain little calcium will give no shadow on the plate.

There were about thirty stones present in the gall-sac, varying from rice grains to large peas in size.

Gallstones form by the slow accretion of crystalline and mineral matter from the bile, around a clump of germs. First then, the germs must enter the gall-sac. Typhoid germs are notorious—many cases of gallstones develop some years after the fever. The colon bacillus, normally present in the bowel, is another frequent cause. Perhaps the most common source of the infection is neglected septic foci in the tonsils, about the gums and in the nasal accessory cavities (chronic sinusitis).

Lack of exercise, corsets, shallow breathing, overeating, insufficient water drinking, insufficient use of fresh fruits and vegetables in the diet, and the abuse of cathartics are all recognized contributing causes of gallstones.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Drinking Water With Salt in It.

I wish to congratulate you upon the wisdom, good nature and good humor in your articles, from which I have derived much helpful information. I am fairly busy in my law practice, but I always make time to read what "Old Doctor Brady" has to say. I have been in the habit of drinking each morning a cup of hot water with a pinch of salt dissolved in it. I have recently been informed that this predisposes to constipation. Was under the impression that the effect is just the contrary. I should appreciate your opinion as to whether it is beneficial or otherwise. (L. A. C.)

ANSWER—If anything, it tends to prevent constipation, certainly cannot favor it, and there is no objection whatever to the habit.

A Case of Sprained Ankle or Jumping Toothache.

What do you recommend for a case of rheumatism or neutritis? (Mrs. H. A.)

ANSWER—It would be easier to tell you what medicine is good for whooping cough or blind staggers, because neuritis is one disease and rheumatism is any old pain anywhere. Seriously, I must have some data bearing on the nature of your complaint in order to advise you. Had you limited your guess even to neuritis, I should still have been at sea, for that means inflammation of a nerve somewhere, but from what particular cause, or requiring what kind of treatment, it would be impossible to know without full data. Your question, Madam, is one of hundreds of unanswerable ones received each week. I want to do all the good I can, and that utterly precludes long-distance guesswork.

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. The names of writers are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column; but all inquiries will be answered by mail if a stamped self-addressed envelope is inclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, care of The Constitution.

Mother Who Gives Two Sons Writes New Version of "Dixie"

Editor Constitution: As one who reverences as well as loves the dear old song, I wish to enter a protest against any words that destroy the distinctive character of "Dixie." I am inclosing a version in which I have tried to retain the traditions of the old and infuse it with the spirit of the new. I am offering two sons to the cause and I should be glad if all the Dixie boys would adopt and sing my "Dixie."

(MRS.) BEULAH R. STEVENS.

17 Holderness Street, May 9, 1917.

We'll March Away From Dixie.

Away down south in the land of cotton
Loyalty is not forgotten:
Look away! Look away! Look away, Dixie Land!
In Dixie Land our hearts are beating,
Eyes are bright and hands are meeting:
Look away! Look away! Look away, Dixie Land!

Then we'll march away from Dixie!
Hooray! Hooray!
From Dixie Land, a loyal band,
We'll sing and fight for Dixie.
Away! Away!
We'll march away from Dixie.

In Dixie Land the sun is brightest,
Girls are sweetest, hearts are lightest.
Look away! Look away! Look away, Dixie Land!
In Dixie Land the mock-bird's singing,
Thoughts of home and loved ones bringing.
Look away! Look away! Look away, Dixie Land.

INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN TO GEORGIA SHERIFFS ON REGISTRATION LAW

Adjutant General J. Van Holt Nash, who will have charge of the registration of men in Georgia for the selective draft list, has mailed out the following letter to sheriffs:

"Since you will be upon the county registration board, permit me to call your attention to the following highly important facts and suggestions:

"The war department advises that only one day will be allowed for the registration of all male persons between the ages of 21 and 31 in your county. The date will be named soon by the president, and detailed instructions sent direct to you.

"In the meantime, it is your duty to check the registration blanks which have been or will be mailed direct to you from Washington, D. C., and to approximate the number of persons in your county subject to registration, and if you find you have not a sufficient number of blanks, wire me, stating the number needed. Do not wire until you have checked the blanks which will be sent you.

Precinct Registrars.

"Also, it is essential that you pick out your precinct registrars and secure from them a promise to serve. This has been done in most of the counties, but owing to the short time to be allowed, must be done promptly in all.

"Make out two typewritten lists of the registrars you appoint, showing their names and addresses and the precincts in which they are to serve. In one list show the names of those who volunteer their services, and in the other those who insist upon being paid. These lists will have to be mailed to the adjutant general, state of Georgia, Atlanta, Ga. You should keep a copy for reference. These lists are only for the use and information of the adjutant general's department and are not to be considered the formal lists you will be required to furnish on the prescribed forms sent you by the government.

"In some counties the county boards are making arrangements to have all of their registrars and their assistants meet them in the courthouse on the day before the registration day, or two days before, and hold a session for instructing the registrars and their assistants in their duties. All persons assisting in the registration, as well as the boards and the registrars themselves, must take the oath prescribed in the law before entering upon their duties as registrars and it would be well to swear them in at this school or meeting.

"In some of the counties the boards are getting the lawyers and bank cashiers who are accustomed to dealing with such matters to volunteer to assist the registrars. This should be encouraged. It is going to take the very best men you have to get the returns made out correctly, and the law makes the county board responsible for this highly important duty.

Must Advise Board.

"The law makes the solicitor of your county or city court ex-officio the attorney to advise the board and the registrars. Call upon him and see that he studies the law carefully and assists in its execution. If you have no solicitor residing there, then call upon your county attorney.

"You cannot study the directions sent you by the war department too much. This will be the most important work you will have ever done for the United States, and the responsibility is upon you to see that it is done correctly. It will be the duty of the county boards to see that every man between the ages mentioned shall register—otherwise they will have to see that prosecutions are entered in the United States court for failure.

"Get in touch with the editor of your local paper and have him wage a publicity campaign. It is his patriotic duty to do so. As soon as the president fixes the date for registration, have him begin publishing it and the regulations everywhere. Have him explain that the registration is entirely different from the draft and that a man must register although he might not be drafted.

"Let it be understood that the government will prosecute anyone found keeping another from registering through intimidation, or other means. The people must show the colored people the necessity of registering, and inform them of how to register and when to register. Some of them cannot read and must be told about it. It has been suggested that some people might try to frighten those who cannot read by misrepresenting to them the consequences of registering. The government will be prompt to deal with anyone showing such a lack of patriotism. It should be the patriotic duty of every citizen to try to impress upon everyone the absolute necessity of registering, and to show them that they are in a way responding to the call of the country when they present themselves for registration.

Volunteer Service.

"A number of states (32 out of the total of 48) have agreed to volunteer the work of registration free to the government. The war department states that such volunteer service upon the part of the county officials and the registrars will be appreciated. It is serving your country as much as if you were upon the battlefield. Whether you volunteer your services or whether you wish to put in your bill and be paid for them, rests entirely with your own conscience. Some will have to be drafted and some will have to give their lives for the cause. Your service is in registering the people of your county. You will be paid for this service if you do not feel that you should volunteer it.

"If there are any questions you desire to ask, address them to me.

"You will be responsible for your county's registration. You must study the regulations and instruct your registrars, or else your county will not keep apace with the others of the state and union.

"I will wire you immediately upon the passage of the bill. In the meantime, appoint your registrars for each voting precinct in your county. Have typewritten lists made of them, the volunteers on separate lists from those to be paid. Get lists of your registrars in. Be certain to see that all blanks are filled out in ink and names plainly printed or written.

"Address all future communications respecting registration to the adjutant general, state of Georgia, Atlanta, Ga."

At War.

The Democratic thought shall conquer all.
To every nation, "Welcome" is our cry;
Russia, thy freedom-hold shall never die.
With joy we hear the trumpet's sounding call,
For, though the bloody battle, may appall,
Still we protect our cotton and our grain.
Our best-trained men must war, lest every plain
Become a battle-field, with cannon ball
Planted where wheat should grow! We still shall shield
The innocent, and feed the starving ones.
Descendants of Attila's Goths and Huns,
Fly to your farms, or to our weapons yield.

—CHEVES HAMILTON.

LITTLE LOCALS ABOUT THINGS OF CITY INTEREST

The children of the seventh grade of the North Boulevard school presented a play, mostly in tableau form, at the school Thursday afternoon, entitled "What the Flag Stands For." Councilman Claude Ashley, of the fourth ward, was one of the interested spectators.

Colonel E. E. Pomeroy, attorney representing the Capital City Laundry, appeared before the claim committee of council Thursday afternoon to press a claim for his client for alleged damage to the Capital City Laundry's property resulting from the regrading of Whitehall street several years ago. The Capital City Laundry is at Nos. 126-28, between Mitchell street and Trinity avenue. The claim was referred to the legal department for consideration.

One of the largest classes which has ever applied for public accountaints' certificates in Georgia stood examination before the state examining board at the Ansley hotel Thursday. The board is considering asking the next legislature to amend the state public accountant laws by inserting a reciprocal clause—such as many states have—which would allow an accountant coming to Georgia from another state to receive a Georgia certificate, providing the standards required in the state in which he received his original certificate are as high as those in Georgia. The board consists of Captain R. W. Jemison of Macon, Harold Hirsch and Joel Hunter, of Atlanta.

The handsome medal offered by B. M. Blount, of Atlanta, to the cadet of the Georgia Military academy making the highest score in this year's target practice, has been awarded to Cadet William Shipp, son of R. L. Shipp, of Moultrie, Ga. Out of a possible 150 points, Cadet Shipp scored 124 hits. Army officers will make an inspection of the cadets today and Saturday. Captain Ware will be in charge.

The usual semi-monthly meeting of the Fulton County Medical society was held last night at 8 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce building, at which matters safeguarding the health of the community were discussed.

"Children of Belgium" will be the subject of a lecture delivered here May 28 by A. J. Van Hocke, professor of civil engineering in the University of Louvain, Belgium, under the auspices of the Belgium legation at Washington. The purpose of the lecture is to raise funds for building homes for the thousands of Belgium children who are being sent to Holland and to supply them with proper food and clothing.

BOYS' GARDEN CAMPAIGN PROVES GREAT SUCCESS

The Boy Scouts "garden campaign," which started six weeks ago, has been productive of results beyond expectation.

At a recent meeting reports showed that of the 410 active scouts in the various troops of the city, 300 of them had gardens in operation.

One young Scout has picked a gallon of English peas from his vines, and says enthusiastically that "other vegetables will be ready before long."

Scout Executive A. A. Jameson says that he is delighted with his "young farmers," and feels sure that all of them will be well paid for their work.

GROCERS AND BUTCHERS PROMISE U. S. SUPPORT

The Atlanta Retail Grocers and Butchers' association adopted resolutions at a recent meeting pledging the support of the organization to the president and placing itself at the disposal of the government. The resolutions, which were immediately mailed to President Wilson, are as follows:

"Realizing the tremendous strain under which the whole country is now laboring on account of the present world war, and believing it to be the duty of every patriotic American to stand firmly by and support the president and his advisory board for national defense, we do herewith offer the services of our association for whatever service we can render our president and our country."

PROF. DYKES URGES COMPULSORY DRILL

Says High School Boys Have Profited Greatly by Voluntary Training—D. Allen Russell Appointed Director of Home Gardening.

Compulsory military training as a part of the school program was urged in a letter to the board of education from Professor W. F. Dykes, head of the Boys' High school, and read at the monthly meeting of the board yesterday.

The board referred the letter to the committee on schools and teachers for further investigation this summer.

That the proposition will receive favorable consideration was intimated by Major Robert J. Guinn, president of the board, in statements made after the board meeting adjourned.

Professor Dykes, in his letter, said, in part:

"About two-thirds of the high school students have availed themselves of the training that has been given them for the past three months. Much interest has been shown by the boys and their parents. No objection whatever has been made to it.

"After a sufficient trial of military training, I am fully convinced that our boys should be given a regular course in military training, and that some credit should be given for it for graduation.

"I desire to recommend most heartily the introduction of military training as a regular part of the course of the Boys' High school, beginning next September. I recommend, also, that, to make it of the greatest value, it be made compulsory."

Tryout Successful.

About four months ago Professor Dykes asked that military training in the high school be given a tryout on the voluntary basis. For three months about 300 students of the high school have voluntarily reported for drills in the afternoons.

The local Young Men's Christian association was given permission to wage a campaign through the principals of the various city schools to get the schools to put swimming teams in a mammoth swimming meet to be staged at the Y. M. C. A. from June 11 to 16. Grammar schools, scout troups, high schools and military organizations will compete in swimming meets at the local Y. M. C. A. during this time, it is planned.

George Eubanks, representative on the board from the ninth ward, was instructed to take up with the Ansley Park Civic league the matter of suggesting some relief for crowded schoolroom conditions now existing at the Tenth Street school. The civic league, the board understands, is willing to erect a temporary school room on a lot owned by the city on Spring street, near Eighteenth street. A report is to be had at the next meeting of the board next Thursday.

Home Gardening Director.

Professor D. Allen Russell, of the Middle Tennessee State Normal school, Murfreesboro, Tenn., was appointed director of home gardening, at a salary of $1,800, to be paid out of the Cator Woolford fund for vocational guidance, education research and home and school gardening. He will assume his duties next week.

The board decided to postpone the teachers' normal meeting scheduled for June 2, when teachers should be elected for the ensuing year, as this is the date the board is scheduled to elect administrative officers for the ensuing year.

Teachers will be elected for next year on June 9.

Ill or in Good Health, Every Man of Right Age In State Must Register

While full details of the manner in which the registration of men for selective draft is to be made have not been made public, communications from Washington to Adjutant General J. Van Holt Nash, who will supervise the registration in Georgia, show that provision will be made for such men as find it impossible for sickness or some other legitimate reason to register.

The president's proclamation will probably contain a clause to the effect that men who, on account of illness, cannot appear in person to register may apply to the clerk of the superior court or the city clerk, in towns of more than 30,000 population, for information as to how they shall proceed. The proclamation will probably require that such application be made six days after the issuance of the proclamation. The same provision will likely apply to men who are in towns other than their residences.

Indication of the strictness with which the government will require the machinery of the registration to be operated is found in the requirement that registrars shall hand in person their registration cards to the sheriffs, so that absolute responsibility may be fixed. In cases where it is impossible to reach the sheriff in person within the time limit which will be set, it shall be the duty of the registrars to telephone or telegraph the totals to the sheriff at the earliest possible moment.

It is expected that full details as to registration will be forthcoming shortly.

DECISION RESERVED IN BRIDGE PETITION

Railroad Commission Hears Testimony in Rome Street Railway Case.

Rome, Ga., May 17.—(Special.)—After hearing testimony for five hours today the railroad commission of Georgia reserved decision in the petition of Norris N. Smith, a citizen of Rome, to have the Rome Railway and Light company show cause why it should not furnish transportation to the public across the bridges in Rome. The bridges across the Etowah at Second avenue and the Oostanaula at Fifth avenue have been completed for six months, but street car passengers have been compelled to transfer on foot because the rails have never been laid.

The trolley company objects to the payment of one-third the cost of the bridges, claiming that this amount, demanded by the county authorities, is excessive. The county, which has jurisdiction over the bridges, stands on this amount, arguing that it was fixed by legislative act, ratified by vote of the people and sustained by the United States supreme court in litigation.

Chairman Candler announced that ten days would be allowed for filing briefs by counsel, and three days for reply briefs, thereby no decision is expected until after June 1. The chairman asked the attorneys to present arguments as to whether or not the commission has jurisdiction in the matter as to the amount of the payment demanded, etc. The cost of the Fifth Avenue bridge is approximately $90,000, that of the second Avenue bridge, $65,000 and a third bridge is now building.

LOUIE MARQUARDT STRESSES GRAVITY OF WAR SITUATION

That organized labor men, and, in fact, the average Americans, do not realize the gravity of the war situation, was the statement made yesterday by Louie Marquardt, president of the Georgia Federation of Labor, who has just returned from Washington, where he attended an international meeting of labor leaders called together by Samuel Gompers, member of the national council of defense and chairman of its labor committee.

Delegates from Great Britain and Canada were present to advise with representatives of American labor and devise means for escaping labor disputes which have delayed the manufacture of war materials in England. A delegate from France failed to arrive.

The Britons declared that England and France were in an extremely serious condition, and that America does not realize the gravity of the situation nor the sacrifices which it must make in order to win the war from Germany.

RUSSIAN COALITION TO PRESS WARFARE

tions meet half way the council's socialist program by promising further control over the production, transport, sale and distribution of products; measures for the better protection of labor; the right to a settlement of the land question by the constituent assembly; increased direct taxation of wealth; development in a democratic direction of local self-government and the hastening of preparations for the constituent assembly. In return the government demands such full confidence and support as will enable it not only to fight a reactionary counter revolution, but also to take measures against the anarchists of the extreme left.

Days of Atlanta's Infancy Recalled by W. H. Barnes

Pioneer, Who Came to This City in 1856, Will Be Honored Tonight by Local Lodge of Odd Fellows, Which Bears His Name.

WILLIAM H. BARNES.

William H. Barnes lodge of Odd Fellows will be honored tonight in the presence of the distinguished Odd Fellow for whom the lodge was named, and who, though now living in San Francisco, has always taken the deepest interest in the local lodge. The meeting, which will be held at the hall, 12 West Alabama street, will be open to the public, and will undoubtedly be one of the most interesting sessions of the order ever held in Atlanta.

Mr. Barnes is the only living Odd Fellow with a lodge named for him, as the rule prohibiting the naming of lodges after living brothers was passed subsequent to the institution of William H. Barnes lodge on March 5, 1863.

The meeting Friday night is expected to bring together the largest gathering of Odd Fellows ever known in this city. The program for the evening has been announced by Secretary T. J. Buchanan, and will be as follows:

Program for Meeting.

Past Grand Gordon F. Mitchell will be master of ceremonies for the first part of the evening. Short addresses will be made by Past Grand Master James L. Mayson, Past Grand Master John A. Hynds, and Past Grand Master Alec Dittler, after which Past Grand Master William H. Barnes will preside over and direct the proceedings.

William H. Barnes is now in his eighty-third year. Although he lives now in San Francisco, he had made frequent visits to Atlanta since 1865.

Mr. Barnes came to Atlanta in 1856 and went to work for the W. & A. R. R., then the only line to and from the city. After a short time, he became station agent, which appointment he received through Colonel Tom Howard, father of Congressman William Schley Howard, of the Fifth Georgia district.

Mr. Barnes was a man of rare wit, a fine singer and an excellent actor, a composer of songs and a banjo player of unusual versatility. He helped organize the first dramatic club that ever played in Atlanta, and was stage manager and general utility man. The organization was known as the Murdock Dramatic club, and supported many afterward famous stars, such as Barney Williams and Billy Florence, the famous comedians; James H. Taylor and Mafie, the great tragedians, names already forgotten by two generations; men who reached the top of their professions before the civil war. William A. Choice, another talented man who made Atlanta his home in the old days, was the leading man.

Atlanta Just a Village.

"When I came to Atlanta to see Colonel Tom Howard in 1856," said Mr. Barnes Thursday, "what is now the greatest city of the southland was a mere village. At that time I was 'runner' for a famous hotel that stood on Alabama street, later entering the service of the state railroad. Atlanta had only a few thousand people living in and around the village, but numbering among them many of the most famous names in the history of the entire state.

"I became associated with Major Steele on the old Intelligencer. My father was editor of The Federal Union News, published at the state capitol in Milledgeville, and I naturally 'fell into' newspaper work, which I did in addition to my duties as station agent."

"When the war came on our dramatic club gave entertainments under my direction, the proceeds of which were sent to make the wounded more comfortable. After Atlanta fell into the hands of the yankees, I removed to New York, later to Boston, and then to San Francisco, which has been my home ever since, but I pay the city of my young manhood a visit each year."

William H. Barnes is reputed to have the finest collection of fraternal jewelry in the world. He is past grand master of New York. He is the oldest living past grand master of Georgia, and the oldest grand patriarch. He has been an Odd Fellow for more than 62 years, and possesses what is known as the veteran's jewel of honor, presented to him some years ago by his own lodge, No. 31, of San Francisco.

In 1911 he was sent a diamond-studded jewel by the grand encampment of Georgia. The grand encampment of California presented him with another handsome emblem as the oldest living Odd Fellow.

Grand Scribe of California.

As grand scribe of the Odd Fellows of California, he published the oldest fraternal paper in the United States. Part of his newspaper training he received in Atlanta.

He will remain in the city only until Saturday morning, but will return later to attend the grand encampment of the Odd Fellows.

These experts are making a preliminary survey of the city and will submit their report and recommendations to the sanitary commission about July 1. One million five hundred thousand dollars is the estimated cost of the plants.

WARTIME "DRY" BILL PREDICTED BY FELDER

Washington, May 17.—(Special.)—Thomas B. Felder, of Atlanta, who has been working for the last several weeks to bring about the passage by congress of war time prohibition, predicted tonight on the eve of his return to Atlanta, that its success was inevitable.

"You can say for me that things are moving finely and that congress will pass a prohibition measure before adjournment," said Mr. Felder.

Henry S. Jackson, of Atlanta, is here accompanied by his son, Howell E. Jackson, who is seeking a commission in the army.

Municipal Cannery For Atlanta Urged By Business Women

To organize the work and to advocate a municipal cannery to take care of the product of the city's "back yard" gardens, the executive committee of the Business People's Suffrage association met Thursday afternoon at suffrage headquarters, No. 11 Whitehall street. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. E. N. Gibbs, chairman.

The slogan of the association is to be "calmness, common sense and concentration," and if appearances count for anything, the meeting will soon show material effect upon Atlanta. A mass meeting of the entire association is set for an early date in June to discuss the cannery matter.

A number of letters were read, including one from the president, in which he highly commended the work of the association, and expressed his wish for success along the lines indicated by the newly-adopted slogan. Members of the executive committee are Mrs. Katie Reeves, Mrs. Bessie Anderson, Mrs. Alice Ross, Mrs. C. D. SOCIETY

Pledge Continued Aid To Red Cross Work.

The council of presidents of the City Federation of Women's Clubs, which body includes the presidents of over one hundred women's organizations in Atlanta, held a meeting yesterday morning in the chamber of commerce, in which they pledged themselves to work unceasingly for war relief during the summer months under the banner of the Red Cross.

Mrs. Spencer Atkinson presided and in earnest voice and spirit reminded the federated club women that war and preparedness recognized no season as one for rest or recreation and that no woman could, in the crisis in which the country is at present, fail to continue to work earnestly wherever she thought she could best render service.

Following the general plan of action suggested by the president of the National Federation, the Atlanta club women will co-operate with the Red Cross society, working with the local chapter wherever they are established. The club presidents will represent their respective organizations in offering their services to the Red Cross and it is being planned that each federated organization will work in some department of Red Cross one day in each week.

The establishment of the various departments of social service will give every women an opportunity to do her part, for this social service will be needed in connection with the Fifth regiment mobilization as well as later in the general mobilization camp at Fort McPherson and comes under the Red Cross activities.

Van Hook-Armstrong.

The god of war aids Cupid these days in hurrying on the wedding day, and pretty Miss Eleanor Van Hook, of St. Louis, who has many friends in Atlanta and who was to have been married to Mr. Armstrong, of St. Louis, in November, has announced to her friends that the wedding will take place May 22 at 5 o'clock at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Grove, 4361 Westminster place, St. Louis. The wedding guests will include seventy relatives and intimate friends. Mr. Armstrong and his bride will visit friends at Princeton, N. J.—he is a graduate of Princeton university—and later they will visit in the east, after which he becomes a member of the army reserve corps.

The attendants will include Mrs. H. D. Wilson, the groom's sister, and Mr. Roy Watson, the best man. Miss Van Hook has selected for her wedding gown one of white satin draped with three overskirts of tulle, each one bordered with seed pearls. The corsage is embroidered in pearls and the wedding veil will be confined with a chaplet of orange blossoms; her flowers to be valley lilies and gardenias.

Miss Van Hook has visited Atlanta as the guest of her cousin, Mrs. F. L. Seely, and with Mr. and Mrs. Seely she has frequently visited at Grove Park Inn. According to the first plans made for her wedding it was to have taken place at their palatial home, "Overlook," on Sunset road, Asheville.

Equal Suffrage Party Takes Patriotic Action.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the local branch of the Equal Suffrage Party, held at headquarters 111 North Pryor street, on Wednesday afternoon, May 16, a vigilance committee was appointed, as advised by the National Suffrage association. This committee will confer with the president of the chamber of commerce, Ivan E. Allen, in regard to the policy outlined in a letter from Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the National Suffrage association, to every chamber of commerce in the United States. Mrs. Murray Hubbard is chairman of this committee.

A letter from Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt to the Equal Suffrage Party of Georgia was read, in which she requested that Georgia contribute $10 toward a campaign fund of $1,000 to be sent to Mrs. Schischki Yavein, president of the Suffrage Association of Russia. This amount was forwarded by the Equal Suffrage Party at once. The money thus raised will be sent to Russia by the United States commission, of which Elihu Root is chairman. The suffrage association in Russia is doing a wonderful work for the army, and have organized hospitals and war relief work of all kinds. The success of woman suffrage in Russia is of the deepest concern to all interested in the democracy of that great country.

The following resolution was adopted:

Whereas, the women of the United States are being called upon and are expected to share the burdens and the sacrifices of the present national crisis; and

Whereas, they are responding to this call with zeal and patriotism; be it

Resolved, by the Equal Suffrage Party of Georgia, which includes a large per cent of your constituency, That to deny women the rights and protection of full citizenship, without which they cannot safeguard themselves from exploitation while in performance of war service, is a great injustice; and, be it further

Resolved, That we do urge our representatives in congress to vote for and to use their influence in behalf of the submission to the legislatures of the states for their ratification, an amendment to the United States constitution, granting women the right to vote.

Junior League Library.

In connection with the School of Household Arts there will be a small, but carefully selected library. The best of the modern progressive books on the home sciences will be contained in this library, as well as the latest good fiction. The following five books, which should be read by every efficient housekeeper, are among those to be found on the shelves there:

"The Efficient Kitchen," Child; "The New Housekeeping," Frederick; "How to Keep Household Accounts," Haskins; "Efficient Living," Purinton; "The Book of Thrift," MacGregor.

In "Efficient Living," Mr. Purinton asks his readers these questions: "Do you take pride and joy in your housework? Have you ever tried to cut down the number of needlss steps you take in a day's work? Do you order meals on a scientific basis? Have you read three standard books on domestic economy? Have you developed a saving sense of humor?"

The Junior League school will help every home maker answer "yes" to all these questions. See tomorrow's paper for further announcements.

Mrs. McCarty's Luncheon.

Mrs. George McCarty, Jr., was hostess at a beautiful luncheon yesterday at her home, Joyeuse, on Peachtree road, in compliment to Miss Margaret Grant, a bride-elect of June, and for Mrs. Daniel McDougald and Mrs. Henry Newman, recent brides. A large silver vase, filled with pink roses and purple iris, was the artistic centerpiece of the table, and at intervals about the table were placed smaller vases of the same flowers. C. W. Lane & Co. To Aid in Recruiting For Engineers' Corps

C. W. Lane & Co., well-known Atlanta contracting firm, announces in a letter which has been mailed throughout the southern states, that it is actively engaged in enrolling men for the Seventh regiment of the Engineers' Reserve corps, which is soon to see service on the French firing line and for which a considerable number of trained railway workers, together with a number of intelligent men eligible as privates will be needed.

It is also stated in the letter that C. W. Lane & Co. does not intend taking any new contracts until after the war is over, and that it will release men now in its employ as fast as present contracts are in such shape as that they can be released, so that they can offer their services to the government for similar work. All men who enroll through its offices will be considered a part of the C. W. Lane & Co.'s organization and will be reinforced later by present employees as soon as it finds it possible to release them.

All men who are eligible are urged to present themselves as soon as possible at the company's general offices, 308 Healey building, for enrollment.

$128,059 NOW READY FOR GOOD ROADS FUND

A check of the accounts of the state automobile fund, in the office of Secretary of State Phil Cook, shows that there will be a total of $128,059.75 available to the several Georgia counties for use upon public highways this year. This is as against a total of $98,248.72 disbursed to the counties last year. The failure of some 20 counties to send in their road mileage reports, upon which the distribution of this fund is based, is holding up the distribution. Secretary Cook is endeavoring to have these counties submit their reports at once. Several counties, delinquent in this particular, have sent in their reports in the last few days.

Keeps Hair Curly In Most Trying Weather

You needn't worry about damp or windy weather spoiling the wavy appearance of your hair if you use the Silmerine curling method. And you can dance all evening without having your tresses stringing all about your face.

If you've never tried this simple method by all means procure a bottle of liquid silmerine from your druggist and follow the accompanying instructions. It will enable you to have just the prettiest waves and curls, so natural looking no one will guess they were artificially produced. The curliness is quickly acquired and lasts considerably longer than where the heated iron is used. When the hair is combed out it will be delightfully soft and fluffy. The life, lustre and beauty of the hair are preserved by the use of this harmless product. Therefore it is also prized as a beneficial dressing for the hair. It is quite pleasant to use and leaves no sticky or greasy trace.—(adv.)

Girls' High Seniors to Give Play at the Atlanta Tonight

The members of the senior class of the Girls' High school are ready for the curtain to rise at the Atlanta theater at 8 o'clock tonight, when they will present "The House of Rimmon," which is a typical pre-Christian story and the actresses will be dressed in the costumes of that period.

The young ladies have been practicing daily for the past few weeks and it is expected that the Atlanta public will be pleasantly surprised with their efforts.

This play is being given for the purpose of defraying the expenses of graduation night, which, differing from previous graduation nights, will be free to the public. This step was made by the senior class with the idea of doing "their bit" along economic lines, and in addition to this the girls have agreed to wear no flowers and the graduation dresses will be plain white gowns, made by the girls themselves.

Sixty girls will participate in the production and the leading characters are considered among the best amateur actresses of Atlanta.

Asheville, N. C., May 12.—One of the most delightful social events of the week was the reception, entertainment, supper and dance given by Mr. and Mrs. John W. The reception was held in the "big room" of Grove Park inn, Mr. and Mrs. Grant and the officers of the society forming the receiving line. Mrs. F. D. Katz and Mrs. Roy Smith gave a pretty luncheon Tuesday in compliment to Mrs. W. D. Hudson, who leaves this week to make her home in Jesup, Ga.

Pink and white roses were used in decoration, the table centerpiece a crystal basket of them and the place cards were miniature trains.

Invited to meet Mrs. Hudson were: Mrs. W. L. Cain, Mrs. M. C. Pittard, Mrs. T. A. Sheram, Mrs. J. C. Watkins, Miss Anne Turner, Miss Gertie Robertson, Miss Clio Brewer.

Cox College Annual.

The 1917 copy of the Cox college annual is just out and is one of the best issued by the institution. "El Espejo" is the name of the attractive book, and as the name implies, it is a mirror that reflects the life of the student body. Much credit in the production is due Misses Sara Gay and Emily Arnall, of the senior class. Miss Gay is editor-in-chief, while Miss Arnall is business manager. The annual this year is dedicated to the popular dean of girls, Miss Lucy Marvin Adams, whose unselfish work among the students has endeared her to all. The dedication is a beautiful tribute to friendship.

For Mrs. Williams.

Mrs. H. P. Nelson entertained informally at two tables of bridge yesterday afternoon at her home on East Fifteenth street, in compliment to her guest, Mrs. Leigh Thompson, of Nashville. Pink peonies artistically arranged decorated the apartments and there were dainty prizes for top score, consolation and the guest of honor.

Mrs. Perdue's Luncheon.

Mrs. John A. Perdue entertained at luncheon yesterday at her home in Inman Park in compliment to Mrs. Edward Perdue, who leaves soon to make her home in Mississippi, and for Mrs. Eugene Pearce, of Clearwater, Fla., and Mrs. Daniel Ruden, of Washington, District of Columbia.

The decorations were in the patriotic colors, the centerpiece of the table an artistic arrangement of red roses, daisies and blue ageratum. The place cards were hand-painted in national flags and tiny flags decorated the cakes and ices.

Mrs. Perdue wore wistaria crepe embroidered.

Assisting in entertaining were Mrs. J. R. Boykin, Mrs. Edwin Yancey, Mrs. George Yundt, Miss Louise Johnson and Miss Tommie Perdue.

Miss Hornady Entertains.

Miss Nina Hornady entertained the Daughters of 1812 informally at tea yesterday afternoon at her home on Linden street. Spring flowers decorated the rooms and a mound of pink roses was the centerpiece of the pretty tea table.

To Army Officers.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Atkinson will entertain at the dinner-dance at the Piedmont Driving club Saturday in compliment to a group of friends from New York and Boston, who are army officers training the officers' reserve corps at Fort McPherson.

In the party will be Major Howell Blanchard, Lieutenant Joseph H. Choate, Lieutenant W. S. Chanler, Jr., Lieutenant Roger Sturgis, Lieutenant Harcourt Amory, Jr., Lieutenant Laurence Grinell, Misses Dorothy Arkwright, Helen McCarty, Julia Murphy, Patty McGehee, Eloise Robinson, Marian Atchison.

Historical Program Of Atlanta Chapter.

The called meeting of Atlanta chapter, U. D. C., on Thursday afternoon, held more of interest than usual.

Mrs. T. T. Stevens presiding, Miss Alice Baxter, state chairman of war relief committee of Georgia division, U. D. C., told in detail of the work already outlined for the division to accomplish for the war relief fund. The chapter heard Miss Baxter with interest, with the result that definite plans were made for activities along this line during the summer months.

Mrs. A. O. Woodward, chairman, spoke tenderly of the veterans at the home. Expressions of sympathy were sent to Mrs. Paul Rauschenberg, whose desperate illness was learned at the meeting.

Mrs. Dalton Mitchell read a letter of greeting to the chapter from Miss Bizzie Green, who was unable to be present, and who was made an honorary member in appreciation of her loving service to the confederacy.

Mrs. Laura Weddell offered a suggestion that the Atlanta chapter establish at Oglethorpe university a memorial to Sidney Lanier, beloved soldier-poet of the south.

Mrs. Thomas Peters, historian, then introduced Mrs. Allie Fudge, who played charmingly a few old pieces enjoyed in the sixties, among them "The Girl I Left Behind," "Bonnie Blue Flag," "Dixie" and "Maryland, My Maryland." Mrs. Stevens read a history of the song, "Maryland, My Maryland," before Mrs. Fudge played it.

Mrs. Peters presented to the chapter for Mr. Ed Lycett a cup and saucer of interesting historic significance, having been taken from an officer's table on the battleship Alabama, on the day she fought the Kearsage, and just before she sank.

Mrs. Thomas Peters told in a thoroughly enjoyable way the history of the flags of the confederacy, followed by Mrs. A. McD. Wilson, who read a history of the Stars and Bars, revealing the fact that the flag was designed by one Nicholi Marschall, a Prussian, who came to America in 1864, settling in New Orleans, that he later taught the language at Marion seminary, at Marion, Ala.

Mrs. C. Helen Plane spoke interestingly of wartimes of 1861-65, showing relics and telling of the "management of the home during the period of war."

Mrs. Robert Blackburn read Barbara Fritchie, and Mrs. James Bedell followed with reading extracts from Miss Rutherford's "Literature of the South," proving the fallacy of the history claimed by its author to be true.

Mrs. W. S. Coleman told of the poem found on the back of a confederate soldier, who died on the field. The poem was dedicated to General Lee.

MRS. WILLIAM C. KING.

Charge Is Disloyalty.

Augusta, Ga., May 17.—(Special.)—George Hillman, colored, has been apprehended in Baltimore, Md., and will be brought back to Augusta to face charges of disloyalty, as the result of his alleged efforts at Martinez, near here, to incite negroes of the community against the whites. MRS. KIESO SICK SEVEN MONTHS

Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Aurora, Ill.—"For seven long months I suffered from a female trouble, with severe pains in my back and sides until I became so weak I could hardly walk from chair to chair, and got so nervous I would jump at the slightest noise. I was entirely unfit to do my housework, I was giving up hope of ever being well, when my sister asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took six bottles and today I am a healthy woman able to do my own housework. I wish every suffering woman would try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and find out for themselves how good it is."—Mrs. CARL A. KIESO, 596 North Ave., Aurora, Ill.

The great number of unsolicited testimonials on file at the Pinkham Laboratory, many of which are from time to time published by permission, are proof of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, in the treatment of female ills.

Every ailing woman in the United States is cordially invited to write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass., for special advice. It is free, will bring you health and may save your life.

ALUMINUM NOW USED FOR COOKING UTENSILS

Do you still cook in the old-fashioned earthen and enamel ware, or have you replaced these with the more modern cooking utensils—aluminum?

Have you ever stopped to think that the coating of earthen ware is lead-glazed and that there is always the danger of its chipping and getting into your food? Have you ever stopped to think that enamel ware—even the best—cracks and chips?

These are dangers perhaps that you have never thought of in all your housekeeping experience.

Aluminum ware is light—light as you have never thought it possible to make cooking utensils and yet have them substantial. You have seen the iron pots that our grandmothers and great-grandmothers used and you have often wondered no doubt how they ever managed to lift them about. In those days cooking utensils were made with one thought in mind only—that they had to last—and last a lifetime.

Now, all this has changed. The heavy iron pot has gone with all the other incommodities of a generation or two ago, and today we are able to purchase aluminum utensils that not only combine strength with lightness, but that last a lifetime.

These aluminum cooking utensils heat quicker and stay hot longer than other ware. They cannot rust or chip, break or bend—and most important to be considered, are pure and safe.

The modern housewife delights in using aluminum ware. Its shining cleanliness and beauty appeals to her pride in her kitchen.

LEADING ARCHITECTS OF NATION ARE HERE

The first meeting of the executive committee of the American Institute of Architects to be held outside of Washington, D. C., is now being conducted in Atlanta, with headquarters at the Georgian Terrace hotel, and the Georgia chapter feels greatly complimented by having had Atlanta so designated.

Th ecommittee is composed of John Laurance Mauran, of St. Louis, president, who was here in February to address the convention of Builders' Exchanges; D. Everett Waid, of New York, treasurer; William Stanley Parker, of Boston, secretary; Burt L. Fenner, of New York, and Elmer C. Jensen, of Chicago, directors.

While in Atlanta the committee will be entertained by the Georgia chapter with a dinner at the Piedmont Driving club Friday evening, an automobile trip to Stone Mountain Saturday morning and a luncheon served at the Mountain Saturday noon.

$1,000 DAMAGE DONE AT RAILROAD SHOPS

Quick work by the central fire companies early last night probably saved the Western and Atlantic railroad shops a disastrous fire when the oil house, used for the storage of oily waste and oil cans, suddenly became a mass of flame. Nearby buildings were subjected to a fierce heat from the blazing building, but engine companies No. 1 and and No. 8 soon had the situation under control. The loss is estimated at about $1,000. The shops are situated in the midst of the railroad tracks leading to the Terminal station.

LUNCHEON TENDERED TO HOWARD FLETCHER

The luncheon tendered Howard Fletcher, of California, en route to Athens to attend the semi-centennial celebration of the Eta chapter of the Chi Phi fraternity, by the Atlanta Alumni association yesterday at the Piedmont was a very enthusiastic meeting, more than forty members being present. Mr. Fletcher spoke on matters pertaining to the Chi Phi fraternity and of the problems that are now facing the organization. Warner Martin is president of the Atlanta Alumni association; Alex Smith, Jr., vice president, and Jesse Draper, secretary.

Rev. James Christian Succeeds Dr. Lawrence As Anti-Saloon Head

Rev. James A. Christian, of Louisiana, has been appointed state superintendent of the Georgia Anti-Saloon league to succeed Dr. Brooks Lawrence, the appointment being made by General Superintendent Baker, of the Anti-Saloon League of America.

That he is fully competent to assume the position of state superintendent, is evidenced by his highly successful work in Louisiana, probably the most difficult field of work in this country.

J. S. CROSBY MAKES PLAIN STATEMENT ABOUT WIFE'S CASE

Well-Known Georgia Farmer Says Tanlac Relieved Her of Acute Indigestion. Gains 20 Pounds.

"I think every bottle of Tanlac is worth its weight in gold," said J. S. Crosby, a well-known farmer of Griswoldville, Ga., recently, "and my wife says so, too, for it has been the making of a new woman of her.

"My wife had indigestion so that everything she ate would sour on her stomach and make her feel all bloated up. Gas that rose made her heart beat fast and she had smothering spells that like to have overcome her. The attacks got to be acute, and she had severe pains in her stomach, and vomiting spells that would just about exhaust her. She fell off a whole lot and got so nervous she could hardly sleep and sometimes hadn't the strength to sit up. I was uneasy about her, for I was afraid one of her bad spells would carry her off.

"The first few doses of Tanlac started her appetite right and she commenced enjoying her meals and getting her strength back. She has taken several bottles and it sent her weight up 20 pounds and she hasn't had one of those awful attacks of acute indigestion since. All her nervousness is gone and she sleeps like a babe. She is now as well a woman as she ever was and everybody can see it. I believe Tanlac will do as much for any other sufferer as it did for my wife."

Crackers Drop First of Series to Birmingham Barons

"Red" Smith Had Big Day for Birmingham and Succeeded In "Jinxing" Sheehan and Day

Crackers Creep Within Two Runs of Barons, Only to Have Smith Spoil Things With a Home Run and the Bases Full.

Birmingham, Ala., May 17.—(Special.) Willard Jehu Smith, better known as "Red," the stocky Baron receiver, did everything in his power to retain his reputation as being the most dangerous pinch hitter in the Southern league. "Red" thoroughly convinced Professor "Red" Day and Tom Sheehan, both hurlers for the Atlanta Crackers, that he is a dangerous man with the willow. Consequently, due to "Red's" effective work of his mighty bludgeon, the Barons scored a 7 to 3 victory over the Crackers yesterday in the opening game of the series.

"Red" had a big day. The Baron catcher drove out two circuit clouts. His final homer came with the bases choked and put the game on the ice for the Moleys. "Red" drove in four runs and scored two himself.

Elmer Ponder, one of Moley's most dependable twirlers, had a bad stay on the hill, but fast support by his teammates saved the day on several occasions. "Red" Day started the twirling duties for the Crackers, but after the Barons had scored three runs off his delivery in the second round, Tom Reilly, acting manager, sent Tom Sheehan to the hill in the third round.

Sheehan Starts Well.

Sheehan held the Barons at his mercy until the eighth, and in the meantime the Crackers had crept to within one tally of tying the count. After the bases had been filled, "Red" Smith drove a vicious liner to left field which bounded over Roy Moran's head and rolled to the bleachers.

Moley's men jumped into a handsome lead in the second round. After Danny Clark had struck out, Kid Caton drove a drive to center field which netted him two sacks. "Red" Smith uncorked his first circuit clout of the afternoon and season when he drove the ball to the center field groove. This didn't end the Baron's frolic, however, for Elmer Ponder followed with a single to center. He was forced by McDonald. Doc Johnston doubled to the right field scoreboard, and Eddie scored by some nifty base running. It was also a terrific clout.

That ended the Barons' scoring until the eighth. The Barons didn't secure a single hit off Sheehan until the sixth. In the eighth Bill Southworth led off by beating out his tap to Al Cable, who threw wild to first. Southy took second on the error. Ellis beat out a tap to Cable. Danny Clark went out, Reilly to Munch, with no advance, except Ellis taking second. Kid Caton worked Sheehan for a pass. Then came Red and his terrific wallop. "Red" had crossed the home plate before Mayer had picked the ball up in deep left field.

Crackers Score One.

The Crackers scored one run in the third. Jake Munch led off with a single to center and romped around to third when Picinich doubled to center. Otto Hess was sent in to bat for Day and he lifted a long fly to Ellis. Munch scored. Al Cable cracked a single to center and Picinich was thrown out at the plate. Ellis' throw was a beauty.

The Crackers' second marker came in the fifth session. After one was down, Jake Munch singled and stole second. He scored when Picinich cracked a single down the third base line.

In the ninth Munch's single, his steal of second and Picinich's fourth safe hit counted another tally.

The Crackers had a great chance to win the game in the eighth. Cable and Moran singled and Tex McDonald was purposely passed, filling the bases. Al Bridwell hit into a hot grounder to Doc Johnston and a double play followed. The Barons made three double plays, all nipping a serious rally by the visitors.

All of the breaks of the game were with the Barons, but at that they outplayed their opponents. The Crackers fought hard for the game, but found the Baron defense too strong in the pinches.

Young Picinich did the best work for the crackers. He secured four hits in as any trips to the plate, two being doubles. He drove in two of Atlanta's tallies and put a runner in a position to score with his first two-base ply. Rube Bressler will work for the Crackers tomorrow. Johnson or Black will work for the locals.

Mobile, Ala., May 17.—Bratchi's double to left center in the ninth inning drove in Manda, who had singled, with the run that enabled Memphis to break a tie and defeat Mobile today, 6 to 4. Little Rock, May 17.—Little Rock batters hit Smith's delivery hard today, six of their nine hits being for extra bases, and the locals took the first game of the series from New Orleans, by a score of 5 to 4. GEORGIA AND TECH AT IT AGAIN TODAY

Heisman, with 15 Tech warriors, will board an early morning train today for Athens, there to do battle with the University of Georgia contingent in an effort to recapture their own goat and that of the Georgians, the former having taken from Tech last Friday and Saturday with a double victory, and the latter especially desired for exhibiting purposes before the S. I. A. A. officials when it comes to awarding the college baseball championship.

In the first game today, Tech will be represented by Puckett on the mound with Morrison in the receiving line. Georgia will present the battery which wrecked havoc here some several days ago, composed of none other than Westbrook and Rawson.

The games in Athens are to decide whether or not Tech will have a lookin on the southern championship, and if the Atlanta representatives succeed in taking a couple from the chesty Athenians, chances are that there will be another banner floating above the Tech ranks within the next several weeks.

Because Saturday is to be a military day in Atlanta and Tech is to have its entire student body in the mammoth parade to be reviewed by Major General Wood, there are very few Tech men going to Athens this morning, although that does not argue that they will await with interest the outcome of the encounter.

Both Friday and Saturday's games will begin at 3:30 o'clock. Tech comes back to Atlanta Saturday night.

Talladega Wins, 3 to 2.

Talladega, Ala., May 17.—(Special.)—After Ellis had driven in two runs in the eighth and Tri-Cities tied it up in the ninth, he hit a home run in the tenth, the ball going through a hole in center field. Although only one run was needed, Thompson pitched a great game of ball this evening, and deserved to win. The hitting of Ellis, Flowers, Goosetree and Wingfield featured, also a peg from right field from Flowers, killing a man at the plate, and a beautiful stab of a line drive by Wingfield from Manager Dudley's bat. The game was the fastest one of the season.

Columbia Ties Charleston.

Charleston, S. C., May 17.—With the score 3 and 3, the game between Columbia and Charleston was called in the ninth inning on account of darkness. Brooks and Whitney staged a pitchers' battle, with the local hurler having slightly the better of the argument. The visitors seemed to get all of the breaks. Heavy hitting and spectacular fielding featured. Reubert, Burnett and Heck starred at bat, while Camp's fielding was prominent. Hoey, now in the service of the United States as a naval militiaman, umpired and was attired in his service uniform. On account of the parade given in honor of Major General Leonard Wood, the game did not start until 5:15 o'clock.

Jacksonville Beats Macon.

Jacksonville, Fla., May 17.—Loveless, aside from being a trifle wild, pitched a grand game today, but received miserable support from his teammates, Jacksonville winning by the score of 4 to 3. Schatzman was wild and let in two runs with mad hurls in the sixth. He was taken out in favor of Horne, after this round, and the latter held the visitors safe for the remainder of the game.

FRANCHISE TO BE LEFT WITH MOBILE, IS REPORT

Conference of Directors Called Today to Consider Tangled Affairs of Club.

Mobile, Ala., May 17.—(Special.)—Mobile's tangled baseball situation was considerably unraveled tonight. Interviews with visiting magnates in the city because of the distress call from the local owners showed that there was little disposition on their part to take the franchise away from the Gulf City. While they didn't say as much, the intimation was that when all of the league directors get here everything will be straightened out. In fact, President R. H. Baugh practically gave the assurance that the franchise will stay here.

The principal development of the afternoon was that Manager Matty McIntyre will positively sever his connection with the Gulls at the expiration of his five days' notice to the team. His successor has already been discussed. The most prominently mentioned leader is Theodore Breitenstein, a veteran of the game and Southern league umpire. He is strongly favored by President Baugh, President Charley Frank, of Atlanta, and President A. J. Heineman, of New Orleans, and the league directors' wish in the matter, it is believed, will have much weight in the choice of a Mobile manager. It is practically certain that needed players will be given Mobile by other clubs.

President R. H. Baugh, of the Southern association, issued the following official statement tonight, regarding the franchise of the Mobile club: "A meeting of the Southern league directors has been called to meet here Friday afternoon or Saturday morning, at which time the Mobile club will state conditions under which they can stay in the Southern league. If these conditions meet with the approval of the directors then the franchise will remain here, otherwise it will revert to the league.

Before adjourning this afternoon, the following directors were summoned to come to Mobile immediately by President Baugh: C. L. Shropshire, Nashville; Robert Allen, Little Rock; W. R. Foster, representing Chattanooga, and W. D. Smith, Birmingham. All of the above, excepting Mr. Foster, are presidents of clubs in their respective cities. The meeting will be held as soon as President Allen can reach here from Little Rock Friday evening or Saturday morning.

GORDON AGAIN WINS IN EXCITING GAME WITH AGGIES, 11 TO 6

Barnesville, Ga., May 17.—(Special.) Ashly proved to be entirely too strong for the Nowth Georgia Agricultural college nine and the Gordon bunch marched on to victory in the last of a two-game series here today, defeating the visitors to the tune of 11 to 6. Dahlonega scored 4 runs in the first inning, but that was not enough to convince the local lads that they had lost a ball game, so they came back and drove two pitchers from the mound in the first two innings, scoring 9 runs.

Dixon and Ogletree hit home runs for the locals, giving them a total of five home runs collected from the Dahlonega twirlers in the two games. This game was as slow and uninteresting for the locals as yesterday's affair, when Gordon won out, 9 to 2.

Ashley allowed only 7 hits and whiffed 14 men, while Gordon found the opposing slabmen for a total of 14 safeties. This game closes Gordon's schedule and they have gone through the entire season without suffering a single defeat and have won out over the fastest prep teams in Georgia, and are, therefore, considered as the strongest contenders for the prep championship of Georgia. Batteries—Ashley, Rigdon; Hendrix, McMekin, Bedgood, Collins and Wilson.

New York, May 17.—A more optimistic view of international affairs seemed responsible for increased activity and an excited advance in the cotton market here today. All new crop deliveries made new high records for the season, with December contracts selling at 20 cents, or 54 points above last night's close and approximately $4.50 per bale above the low level of Tuesday. That delivery closed at 19.98, and the general list closed very steady at a net advance of 25 to 52 points. Old crop months were relatively easy, and it looked as though some of the old long accounts in July were being transferred into later deliveries.

Orders were pretty well divided at the start, and, after opening one to three points higher, prices eased off slightly owing to the favorable weather map. Offerings were very well absorbed around last night's closing figures, however, and the market soon turned firmer on covering and Wall street and Liverpool buying. On an advance of about 12 points the market met considerable realizing, and there were reactions of several points around midday on the favorable showing of the detailed weather reports. But the talk of improvement in crop prospects failed to inspire any aggressive selling, and an active buying movement developed during the afternoon on the continued strength of the stock market, and reports of a decided improvement in Russia's internal affairs. Stop-loss orders were uncovered on a scale up with July selling at 20.25, October at 19.89 and March at 20.18 before the close, or 37 to 54 points net higher. May was almost neglected, but sold 25 points above last night's final figures. Last prices were at practically the best point of the day. A large part of the buying on the advance was credited to Wall street and western interests, and the more optimistic view of general conditions was attributed partly to the smaller amount of tonnage sunk by submarines last week. Early buyers were sellers on the afternoon advance, but, aside from realizing, local brokers said they found few contracts offering around the ring.

Spot cotton steady; middling 20.60.

In New Orleans.

New Orleans, May 17.—Political news dominated the cotton market today and stimulated enough buying to send the trading months in the contract department to a net advance of 40 to 55 points late in the session. The close showed a rise of 41 to 52 points above yesterday's last quotations.

The better accounts from Russia showed moderate buying in the morning session and the movement gained new headway after the middle of the day, when it was reported that the cabinet crisis in that country had been settled. The fact that this country had loaned Russia $100,000,000 was made much of throughout the day, and in the afternoon it was gossip around the ring that some of the buying of contracts was for Russian account and that Russia was to use part of its loan for the purpose of replenishing depleted stocks of the staple. It was on this story that prices reached their highest point.

The opening was at the advance on better cables, and continued cool weather over the belt helped the market in the early trading. A better spot demand at higher prices was a stimulating influence, as were also reports of continued British successes against the Germans. Shorts were inclined to cover from the start, but the bulk of the buying appeared to be for long account, and it was said that important interests were taking hold of contracts.

PROFESSIONAL VIEWS ON COTTON SITUATION

New York, May 17.—(Special.)—Although weather conditions over the cotton belt are now favorable to the crops' progress, the feeling predominates that the season's production will be only moderate, because of the backward spring and therefore cotton is being bought by various interests, who believe it will sell much higher later on. The market being without selling pressure from southern holders it responds easily to this demand. BOND, M'ENANY & CO.

New York, May 17.—Under the influence of a demand from the west and Wall street traders the market advanced to the highest prices of the year for the new crop. Although the weather was favorable, warm and clear over the entire cotton belt, complaints were received from many sections that the recent cold weather injured the crop, so that many acres would have to be replanted. The nearby deliveries were for sale in larger quantities than the demand, so that the premium of July over October narrowed as the latter delivery advanced. Many longs transferred their interest from July to October. Owing to the absence of the freight and insurance, the exports have fallen below those of last season. Traders generally are bullish on the absence of any sellers, though regarding prices as high in view of the accumulation of cotton in America. HUBBARD BROS. & CO.

Cotton Seed Oil.

New York, May 17.—After some show of steadiness early with the firmness in cotton and greases, cotton oil turned easy under liquidation, induced by the down turn in lard and lack of outside support. July sold from 14.47 to 14.65 and closed at 16.34. Final net losses were 8 to 14 points.

Sugar.

New York, May 17.—The local market for raw sugar was less active than yesterday, but prices showed a further decline under continued liberal offerings from Cuba. There were sales early of about 10,000 bags of Cubas in port and 5 cents cost and freight, equal to 6.02 for centrifugal, but later about 25,000 bags were sold for June shipment at 4 15-16c, cost and freight, equal to 5.96 for centrifugal. The demand seemed to be pretty well satisfied at the close, however, and sugar was available for both May and June shipment at 4 15-16c, cost and freight, equal to 5.96 for centrifugal, without being taken. The close was at 4 15-16c for Cubas, cost and freight, equal to 5.96 for centrifugal and 5.08 for molasses.

No changes occurred in refined sugar and while the demand was moderate refiners were still restricting orders. Prices ranged from 7.50 to 8.50 for fine granulated.

Coffee.

New York, May 17.—The market for coffee futures was even less active today than it was yesterday and fluctuations were correspondingly slight. The more optimistic feeling noted in Wall street and cotton trade circles, evidently failed to inspire any fresh buying in coffee and business again seemed to be restricted by the uncertainties of war taxation. First prices were unchanged to two points higher and the market closed net one point higher to three points lower. July contracts fluctuated between 8.17 and 8.20, while December sold around 8.40 and 8.41. Sales were reported of 5,750 bags. SHIPPINGS ACTIVE ON U. S. NAVY NEWS

Clearing of the Foreign Situation Brings Continued Gains on Active Market. U. S. Steel Sets Record for Year.

New York, May 17.—On transactions slightly in excess of one million shares today's market supplemented for the most part its gains of the previous session. Removal of some of the uncertainties in the foreign situation and further indications of the assured success of the government's bond offering constituted the chief moving factors.

Speculative interest with a sprinkling of public inquiry centered largely around steel and iron industrials, especially those issues related to the equipment and munition groups.

United States Steel's high quotation of the day—122¾—represented a new record for the year. Part of this gain was cancelled in the more insistent selling for profits of the last hour.

Foremost among the other strong industrials and specialities were Lackawanna, Superior and Gulf States steel at gross advances of 3 to 5 points. New York Airbrake added six points to yesterday's substantial rise at 218. Harvester corporation, Washington and Colorado Fuel were higher by 2 to 3 points at best quotations, but fell back in common with the general list.

Coppers were apathetic until the final hour, when they came into brisk action on reports of the consummation of a large government contract. Shippings were among the most prominent shares, their strength probably resulting from the arrival of an American naval force in British waters.

Rails fail to record more than moderate advances, though more active than recently. Advices from middle western and northwestern points, which reported promising crop conditions, accounted for the better tendency, shown by grangers.

Heaviness, which at times verged upon weakness was denoted by the motors, sugars and minor rails. Lake Erie and Western preferred lost 5 points at 30, and Cuban-American sugar 6 at 190.

Russian exchange reacted moderately from yesterday's record, a similar trend being shown by the bonds of that country.

The general bond market was irregular on lighter offerings. Total sales (par value) aggregated $2,870,000.

United States government issues were unchanged on call.

ATLANTA'S STRIDES FROM DAY TO DAY

A deed went to record Thursday conveying from A. L. Dunn to H. Y. McCord Mr. Dunn's home at 876 Ponce de Leon avenue, the consideration being $45,000 cash.

J. H. Whitten, of the M. L. Thrower agency, handled the transaction. Mention of this sale was made several days ago in The Constitution.

The Dunn home property consists of a lot fronting 225 feet on the north side of Ponce de Leon between Moreland avenue and Springdale road and having a depth of 385 feet. A handsome twelve-room, brick veneer dwelling is on the lot.

Mr. McCord will take over the dwelling on September 1, when Mr. Dunn will move to an apartment in the Druid.

Meeting Your Bank Half Way

President David R. Forgan, National City Bank, Chicago, widely known, says:

"In self-protection . . . bankers have within recent years begun to demand, or at least encourage, the practice of having statements for credit certified by public accountants. Only keen competition prevents this practice from becoming universal, as it ought to be."

It is a stroke of good business to meet your bank half way and give it the assurance it desires.

AMUSEMENTS

Loew Vaudeville.

(At the Grand.)

A Loew vaudeville bill, for the most part bright and breezy, closes the week at the Grand theater.

The bill opens with Kimball and Kennett, whose business of playing banjos is diligently and skilfully pursued, the fact that "even grand opera can be played on the banjo," though unannounced in this act, being as successfully demonstrated as usual. "An original imitation," hitherto thought to be something of an impossibility, turns out to be a rather clever bit of "ukelele stuff" played on a banjo, in addition to which there are several other stunts.

"The Princess Jue Quon Tai," headliner, is an attractive visitor from the Orient, whose voice, while nothing extraordinary, has a certain very charming native appeal in it, and it is supported by a genuineness of personality and a great deal of youthful vivacity and enthusiasm. Ragtime is her specialty.

"Six Imps and a Girl" is an acrobatic act well worth sitting through.

Snow and Dill have a duologue of wartime chatter, fairly free of "stale ones," and relieved by a timely song of "The Letter Which Never Reached Home," the tendency to a surfeit of pathos in which is, in turn, relieved by a parody.

Frederick Speare and company, in "Every Man's Sister," will or will not please, largely according to one's taste. They are, perhaps, unfortunate in their medium, an extreme melodrama with a maudlin sermon.

NED M'INTOSH.

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Lyric.)

With a change of bill, excepting the California Boys' Band, the Lyric theater started on the second lap of the first week of popular Keith vaudeville at popular prices yesterday.

The California boys are distinctly headliners of the second bill, as they were of the first. They offer first-class entertainment. Their Sousa marches and military airs finding a ready response in the martial temper of the people just now, and their athletic demonstrations showing that their training has been broad in its character. They are not just a band in the ordinary signification, but boys of whom any state might be proud, American soldiers in the making, ready for any kind of service in peace or war.

Bob Knapp and Chris Cornalla, who pull off some really new jokes, at least they are in Atlanta, and while their comedy is of the slapstick variety, intermingled with some pretty clever tumbling, they are a magnetic pair of fellows in their clownery and put the audience in a thorough, good humor with themselves and the show.

The El Rey sisters are two unusually pretty girls who open the bill with a roller skate dancing act.

The female partner of the Lerner and Ward combination is also strong on looks and the pair do an imitation of a grand opera quartet which, while not remotely suggestive either in make-up or voice of the stars they parodied, is sufficiently novel in idea and clever in execution to make it a passably good act.

The most elaborately staged act in the bill is styled a "Revue de Vogue," anglice fashion review.

The pictures which served as a prelude to the bill were both instructive and interesting.

Earlier Matinees.

(At the Lyric.)

Manager Hickman, of B. F. Keith's Lyric theater, announced yesterday that beginning next Monday, the matinee performances will start daily at 2:30 p. m., instead of 3 o'clock, doors opening at 2 p. m. Patrons going to the theater before the performance starts will be treated to a special orchestrion concert in the Japanese garden. A special section has been reserved for ladies. Reserved seats are now on sale for all performances a week ahead and reservations may be made in advance.

"Submarine Eye" Seats.

(At the Rialto.)

The opening yesterday of the advance sale for next week's production of Williamson Brothers' "The Submarine Eye," at the Rialto, clearly manifested that there is going to be a rush for seats throughout the limited engagement. When the box office of the Rialto opened at 9 o'clock there was a line of buyers waiting and all day the demand for reserved seats kept the ticket sellers busy. The orchestra seats at night will be reserved and those may be secured in advance for any of the twelve performances next week. Two performances daily will be given, 2:30 and 8:30.

Mary Pickford.

(At the Criterion.)

The first week of advanced motion picture productions at the Criterion theater, the new policy bringing to Atlanta a big star in special de luxe features, has proved a brilliant success. Mary Pickford is the opening star in "A Poor Little Rich Girl," and she has attracted to the theater in the first four days more money than the Criterion usually plays to with a whole week of two-day bookings. Ford Sterling, in the Keystone hit, "Pinched in the Finish," supplies the fun for the bill. Next week Clara Kimball Young will be the star in "The Easiest Way."

"The Devil's Assistant."

(At the Vaudette.)

Thrills and trembles, sensations and shivers, hypnotic reaction and audacious medical methods that intensify gripping interest in the performance go hand-in-hand with the powerful, terrible and terrifying story of "The Devil's Assistant," in which Margarita Fischer will appear today and tomorrow at the Vaudette theater. This is a master photo-play production that is sure to draw exceptional patronage. A Mutual Weekly will be shown in conjunction with the drama.

Baby Osborne Today.

(At the Strand.)

"Sunshine and Gold" will be today's card at the Strand theater, with clever little Baby Osborne. A Hearst-Pathe news feature will be a feature of the bill. Baby Osborne has a large following in Atlanta and her every appearance at the Strand is marked by a large turnout of her admirers, adults as well as children. Tomorrow the Strand will present Frances Nelson in "One of Many" and a Pathe Weekly.

"Great Secret" Winds Up.

(At the Alamo 2.)

The seventeen-week serial, "The Great Secret," with Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne as the stars, will wind up with the concluding installment today and tomorrow at the Alamo 2. Thousands of Atlanta theater-goers have followed this remarkable mystery drama, some regularly and others from time to time. All will now have an opportunity to see the big surprise climax and learn how the whole problem is unraveled and the facts laid bare. "Dodging His Doom" and another short play will be shown today.

"Happiness" on Peachtree.

(At the Odeon.)

"Happiness" will be a feature of everyday life on Peachtree street today and tomorrow, C. Gardner Sullivan's five-act comedy produced by Thomas H. Ince opening there this morning. This is the widely-heralded play that deals with the soapsuds trust. It is a satisfying laugh on the continuous plan and lasting no less than 75 minutes. In addition the Odeon will present for the two days, a new Triangle comedy, "His One-Night Stand," and an amusing Bray Cartoon Pictograph.

"The Highway of Hope."

(At the Savoy.)

Kathlyn Williams and House Peters, stars too well known to require extended introduction, will be today's dramatic stars at the Savoy theater, the only one of Atlanta's leading theaters presenting exclusively big stars and a new bill every day. The Williams-Peters vehicle will be "The Highway of Hope," a stirring drama. A Bray Pictograph will be shown. Tomorrow the Savoy will offer "A Magdalene of the Hills," with Mabel Taliaferro, and Chester Conklin in the Keystone comedy, "Dodging His Doom."

Today at the Movies.

STRAND—Baby Osborne in "Sunshine and Gold."
ALPHA—Drama and a good comedy.
SAVOY—Kathlyn Williams in "Out of the Wreck."
ALAMO NO. 2—Bushman-Bayne serial and "Dodging His Doom," comedy.
CRITERION—Mary Pickford in "The Poor Little Rich Girl."
ODEON—Enid Bennett in "Happiness."
VAUDETTE—Margarita Fischer in "The Devil's Assistant."

Will Your Cigarette Pass These Two Tests?

If it does, it's a good one—stick to it whether it happens to be Fatima or some other cigarette.

But if it doesn't, just try these two tests on Fatima.

Here is another kind of Fatima proof: For over 8 years, Fatimas have been the largest-selling cigarette costing over 10c. And, except in one or two localities, Fatima's big lead is increasing faster today than ever—in spite of the big sales of cheaper cigarettes, packed to imitate Fatima.

Clip out these two tests and try them on Fatima today.

Must Give Ten Days' Notice to Get Hearing On Revenue Questions

As indicating the tremendous pressure of business in the various departments in Washington just now, Collector of Internal Revenue A. O. Blalock was yesterday in receipt of a letter from the commissioner of internal revenue, informing him that persons desiring a hearing on any tax question must ask for the same at least ten days in advance, stating his reasons for the hearing.

The commissioner has been so burdened with work of late, the letter says, that he cannot insure a hearing, either in person or through his chiefs and deputies to persons who come to Washington without having previously made an appointment.

As rulings have already been issued on a majority of the questions raised under the internal revenue laws, it is necessary at the time of making a request for a hearing to file a brief setting forth the arguments and contentions intended to be presented.
